CARL R. POHLAD

Owner

Carl Pohlad has owned the Minnesota Twins since 1984 and the 2006 season will mark the 22nd anniversary of his ownership. With the franchise facing a possible move out of state, Mr. Pohlad was motivated by a sense of community responsibility and a feeling that major league sports, particularly baseball, are important assets that contribute to the quality of life in their communities.

Three years later, the team capped a Cinderella season by winning the franchise's first ever World Series Championship. It would be the first of two world championships that the Twins would win within the first seven years under Mr. Pohlad's leadership. The team's recent successes, including its back-to-back-to-back American League Central Division Championships in 2002, 2003 and 2004, attest to Mr. Pohlad's ability to build and manage an exceptional baseball organization with a strong emphasis on player development.

Inducted into the Twins' Hall of Fame in 2005, Mr. Pohlad served eight years on the Major League Baseball Executive Committee and is currently an ex-officio member. He has also served as Vice President of the American League and as a member of the Player Relations Committee Board of Directors.

Beyond his baseball activities, Mr. Pohlad is a long-time business leader, having achieved success first in the banking business and later in the soft drink industry. Both businesses continue to be key parts of his business empire, which also includes real estate, airline passenger and freight operations, and financial services. Mr. Pohlad is currently President of Marquette Financial Companies, chairman of Mair Holdings, Inc. and a director of Genmar Holdings, Inc.

Mr. Pohlad attributes much of his life's successes to the lessons learned while a young boy growing up in Iowa and to the love and devotion of his wife Eloise. And it is with that spirit that the couple continually worked to give back to the community with service and financial support. Mr. Pohlad has served on the boards of numerous civic and charitable organizations throughout his lifetime, including the Methodist Hospital, Health Systems of Minnesota and its successor, Park Nicollet Health Services Board. He was a founding member of the Boys and Girls' Clubs of Minneapolis and, along with Mrs. Pohlad, became a member of the United Way's Alexis de Toqueville Society and the Century Legacy Program of the Greater Twin Cities Area United Way in 2001. During her lifetime, Mrs. Pohlad also served many nonprofit causes, including the Sisters of Joseph Ministries Foundation, of which she was a founding board member.

Mr. Pohlad was elected to the Horatio Alger Association of Distinguished Americans in 1989 and has remained involved in the organization's charitable activities ever since. During 2002, he established a college scholarship program for Twin Cities area high school students through the Association.

In 1994, Mr. and Mrs. Pohlad incorporated the Carl and Eloise Pohlad Family Foundation which allowed them to significantly increase their charitable giving to a wide range of nonprofit organizations. Between 1999-2003, the Pohlad Family Foundation approved grants totaling more than $23 million. Other Pohlad-owned businesses, including Marquette Financial Companies and the Minnesota Twins, also provide support to community organizations each year. Mr. and Mrs. Pohlad have also made several significant personal gifts to a variety of other institutions, including the Greater Twin Cities Area United Way, Gonzaga University and the Mayo Clinic Foundation.

In the years since the Pohlads purchased the Minnesota Twins, Mrs. Pohlad assumed the role of "first lady" of the team and pursued it with the same enthusiasm and grace that she brought to her marriage and her family. Her unflagging support of the team both on and off the field knew no bounds. Her death in November of 2003 leaves a hole not only in the lives of her husband of 56 years and her three sons, but also in the larger Twins family. She will be missed.

JERRY BELL

President, Twins Sports Inc.

T. Geron (Jerry) Bell was named president of Twins Sports Inc. on November 26, 2002. In his position he will continue to lead the effort to ensure the long-term viability of the Minnesota Twins while also serving as the Pohlad ownership group's liaison with Major League Baseball.

Bell, who was named the third president in the history of the Minnesota Twins in January, 1987, spent 16 years as the chief executive of the club. He led the team's business operations and was instrumental in the 1987 and 1991 World Championship seasons. Other accomplishments include setting an American League attendance record in 1988 when the Twins became the first junior-circuit team to attract more than three million fans. He also led the development and construction of the state-of-the-art spring training facility known as the Lee County Sports Complex which opened in Ft. Myers, Florida in 1991.

Bell joined the Twins after serving as executive director of the Metropolitan Sports Facilities Commission, which operates the Metrodome. He joined the MSFC as assistant executive director upon the commission's inception in 1977.

His professional activities include being a member of Major League Baseball's Professional Baseball Association Committee/Baseball Operations Committee. Past activities have included three terms as member of the North St. Paul/Maplewood School Board, including five years as chairman; served on Minneapolis Downtown Council Board of Directors from 1993-2002; member of the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce Communications Committee; Board of Directors for the Greater Convention and Visitors Association; member of the Executive Committee of the Minneapolis/St. Paul Final Four organizing committee and former consultant to the Miami Dolphins, Ltd., of the NFL.

Jerry and his wife, Phyllis, who make their home in North St. Paul, MN, have two daughters.

DAVE ST. PETER

President, Minnesota Twins

Dave St. Peter was named the fourth president in Minnesota Twins history on November 26, 2002. He oversees the team's strategic planning process and the club's business departments including ticket sales and service, corporate partnerships, marketing, community affairs, communications, broadcasting, stadium operations, human resources and finance. St. Peter is also involved in business-related baseball decisions as well as the team's ongoing effort to ensure the long-term viability of the franchise in the Upper Midwest.

At age 39, St. Peter begins his 17th year with the Twins in 2006. He joined the Twins organization in 1990 and held a variety of positions including vice president of corporate communications. He was named senior vice president of business affairs in February of 1999 and assembled a sales and marketing staff which has increased annual attendance by more than 90% from 2000-2005.

In recent years, St. Peter has been part of a leadership team which helped the franchise win back-to-back-to-back American League Central Division championships (2002-2004) marking the first time in club history that the team has advanced to post-season play three consecutive seasons. During St. Peter's tenure, the Twins have twice been named Organization of the Year by Baseball America (2002 and 2004). The franchise received the Atlanta Sports Council's Horizon Award (2002) as the Professional Sports Organization of the Year while the Twins Community Fund was a 2000 recipient of the Greater Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce's Quality of Life Award. Recently, St. Peter has been named to the Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal and Minneapolis-St. Paul Business Journal's "Forty under 40" lists.

In the community, St. Peter serves on the board of the Twins Community Fund, the Minneapolis Downtown Council, the Greater Minneapolis Regional Chamber of Commerce, the Minneapolis Central Library Business Advisory Council, the Bob Allison Ataxia Research Center, A.C.E.S. (Athletes Committed to Educating Students) and the Park Nicollet Foundation.

St. Peter was born in Bismarck, North Dakota and graduated from the University of North Dakota in 1989. Dave, his wife Joanie, son Jack and twin sons Eric and Ben make their home in Eden Prairie, MN.

TERRY RYAN

Vice President, General Manager

Terry Ryan was named as the fourth General Manager in Minnesota Twins history on September 13, 1994. He is responsible for the team the Twins put on the field (40-man roster and 25-man major league roster), negotiating contracts and overseeing the coaching staff, and entire baseball department, including team travel and baseball communications.

Prior to becoming general manager he was vice president of player personnel, a position he assumed on September 23, 1991. In that role, Ryan was responsible for scouting and evaluating all talent at the major league level and assisting in personnel decisions. He was also responsible for signing all major league players with less than three years of major league service.

Through the efforts of Ryan and his staff, the Twins organization has won back-to-back-to-back American League Central Division titles in 2002, 2003 and 2004. This past season he was named Executive of the Year and the Twins were named Organization of the Year by Baseball America. He was also the recipient of the Andrew "Rube" Foster Award as American League Executive of the Year by the Negro Leagues Baseball Museum. In 2002, the Twins were also named Organization of the Year by Baseball America (again in 2004), USA Today and Sportsticker. Ryan was honored in 2002 as the Major League Executive of the Year by The Sporting News, joining Calvin Griffith (1965) and Andy MacPhail (1991) as Twins recipients of the award.

Ryan, 52, began his professional baseball career with the Twins in 1972 after being drafted in the 35th round out of Parker High School in Janesville, Wisconsin. He pitched in the Twins' minor league system for four seasons, posting a 14-3 record, including 10-0 in 1973, before an arm injury cut his career short. In 1975, he enrolled at the University of Wisconsin-Madison and graduated with a degree in physical education in 1979.

The 1998 Topps' Advancement Through the Game Award winner returned to baseball in 1980 as Midwest scouting supervisor for the New York Mets, a position which he held for six years before being named the Twins' scouting director in January, 1986.

Terry and his wife, Karilyn, have two children, Tim and Kathleen, and live in Eagan, MN.

BILL SMITH

Vice President, Assistant General Manager

Bill Smith was elevated to vice president, while maintaining his role as assistant general manager, September 15, 1994. As assistant to Terry Ryan, Smith is responsible for negotiating player contracts, assisting in the day-to-day operations of the baseball department and the general operations of the Twins academies in Venezuela and the Dominican Republic. He is also a member of the Minor League Baseball Board of Trustees and represents the Twins in scheduling and Winter League Baseball.

Smith, 48, was named assistant general manager on September 23, 1991, and was responsible for a majority of the details in the baseball operations department as well as assisting in major league player development.

He joined the Twins in March, 1986, as assistant director of minor leagues and scouting. Prior to that, from 1983-85, he was general manager of the Class A Appleton Foxes, then an affiliate of the Chicago White Sox in the Midwest League.

A graduate of Hamilton College in New York where he majored in French, Smith was one of the first participants in Major League Baseball's Executive Development program in 1980. He was hired by the White Sox as assistant director of minor leagues and scouting, a position he held from 1981-82.

Smith was named director of baseball administration for the Twins in October, 1989, and was the Twins' liaison during the construction of their spring training home in Ft. Myers, FL from 1989-91.

Bill, wife Becky, daughters Allison and Amy, who are twins, and Jennifer, make their home in Bloomington, MN.

KIP ELLIOTT

Chief Financial Officer

Kip Elliott, who begins his 15th year with the Twins in 2006, was named chief financial officer on January 4, 1999.

Elliott, 39, joined the Twins in May, 1992 as accounting manager and held the position of controller from 1995 through 1998. He was employed by the public accounting firm of Coopers and Lybrand from 1989-92.

Elliott is responsible for overseeing the accounting and information system departments, including management of the annual financial reporting for the organization and Major League Baseball. As part of the senior management team, he also plays a key role in the structuring and implementation of the club's strategic plan.

Elliott is the Treasurer of the Twins Community Fund and is on the board of directors for the Special Olympics, Minnesota.

Elliott, a Certified Public Accountant, was raised in Fredericksburg, Iowa and graduated summa cum laude from the University of Northern Iowa in 1989. Kip, wife Jodi, children Carter, Maxwell, and Maree make their home in Hudson, WI.

MATT HOY

Vice President, Operations

Matt Hoy, who begins his 21st year with the Twins in 2006, was named Vice President of Operations in April, 1992.

Hoy, 48, joined the Twins in January, 1986 as a member of the sales staff and has held positions as Director of Novelty Operations, Director of Sales and was the Director of Stadium Operations before his promotion.

His responsibilities include overseeing Stadium Operations, Fan Relations, Security, Ticket Operations, Office Services, Merchandise Sales, including the Twins' Pro Shops and Post-Season Operations. He also serves on the Board of Directors for the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation and is the current Chair of the Walk to Cure Diabetes, which is held every January at the Mall of America and raises well over one million dollars for research each year.

Hoy was born in St. Paul and attended Blake School in Hopkins. He and his sons Matt and Dan, make their home in Mound, MN.

RAENELL DORN

Vice President, Human Resources and Diversity

Raenell Dorn begins her 33rd season with the Twins in 2006, her seventh since being promoted to Vice President of Human Resources and Diversity in January of 1999.

Dorn oversees all aspects of Twins human resources, including risk management, workers compensation, employee assistance programs, benefits administration and payroll. In addition she heads diversity efforts within the organization including operation of the joint Minnesota Twins/Major League Baseball Diverse Business Partner's Program and is a member of the Major League Baseball Diverse Business Partner's Task Force. She also serves on the Stanton Advisory Board regarding benefit issues and the YWCA marketing committee.

She was born in New Prague, Minnesota and graduated from Metropolitan State University. She resides in Eden Prairie, MN with her husband Harvey. They have two grown children, Christopher and Bryan.

PATRICK KLINGER

Vice President, Marketing

Patrick Klinger serves as vice-president of marketing. He joined the Twins in 1999 as director of marketing and was promoted to vice-president in September, 2000. He is responsible for overseeing the organization's advertising, promotions, game presentation and community affairs efforts.

Klinger, 41, has introduced innovative promotions and marketing programs that have been duplicated throughout baseball, including the bobblehead phenomenon that swept the nation. He also has managed many unique special events including an Opening Day ceremony featuring Minnesota soldiers tossing the team's ceremonial first pitch live via satellite from a Kuwati desert, a tribute to the late Bob Casey and the 40th Anniversary of the 1965 American League Championship team. Klinger has also been recognized for leading the Twins' pioneering efforts to make new fans in the area's minority and ethnic communities.

Prior to joining the Twins, Klinger served as director of marketing at the RiverCentre complex in Saint Paul and director of marketing for Ticketmaster.

Klinger is a board member of Interfaith Outreach, a community based organization that benefits low income families.

The Winona, Minnesota native is a graduate of Winona State University and resides in Apple Valley, MN with his wife, Rae Lynn, and sons Zach and Alex.

ERIC CURRY

Vice President, Corporate Partnerships

Eric Curry, who begins his sixth year with the Twins in 2006, was named Vice President of Corporate Partnerships on October 16, 2000.

Curry, 41, previously held the position of Director of Retail Marketing for Universal Marketing Associates, Inc. in Atlanta, Georgia. Curry began his career with a nine-year stint with Delta Air Lines, where he was involved in operations, marketing and promotions before leaving to join Universal in 1994. During his tenure with Delta in Salt Lake City, he was Delta's liason in the effort to secure the 2002 Olympic Winter Games.

His responsibilities include leading the ballclub's corporate partnership efforts including all signage and promotional event sales. Under his direction, the Twins corporate revenue has increased over 120 percent in the past three seasons.

A 1985 graduate of Trinity College in Deerfield, Illinois, Curry is also an NCAA Division I basketball referee (Big Sky, Mountain West and Mid America Conferences) and serves on the Board of Directors of Minnesota Junior Achievement and Minneapolis Community and Technical College.

He and his wife Andrea make their home in Minneapolis, MN.

STEVE SMITH

Vice President, Ticket Sales and Service

Steve Smith joined the Twins organization as Vice President of Ticket Sales and Service on November 18, 2004. Smith, 42, is responsible for leading the team's overall ticket sales effort including season and group ticket development, single-game ticket initiatives, premium seating and ticket-related customer service functions. Under Smith's leadership, the Twins drew more than 2 million fans in 2005, the first time since 1993 the team had surpassed the 2 million mark.

A native of Rockwell City, Iowa and a graduate of Iowa State University, Smith was formerly the Vice President - Ticket Sales and Service for the Toronto Blue Jays. He has also held ticketing positions with the Golden State Warriors, the Philadelphia 76ers and Orca Bay Sports.

Smith and his wife Lisa reside in Minneapolis.

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that this is the 46th season in which the major leagues have a 162-game schedule. They played 154 games until the expansion season of 1961, when the Twins' franchise moved from Washington, D.C. to the Twin Cities. After the prolonged strike in 1994-95, clubs played an ammended 144-game schedule in 1995.

WWW.TWINSBASEBALL.COM

Established in June 2000 following a unanimous vote by the 30 Major League Baseball club owners to centralize all of Baseball's Internet operations, MLB Advanced Media LP (MLBAM) is the interactive media and internet company of Major League Baseball. MLBAM manages the official league site, www.MLB.com, and each of the 30 individual Club sites, including www.twinsbaseball.com, to create the most comprehensive Major League Baseball resource on the Internet. Twinsbaseball.com, the first official team website launched onto the MLB portal on January 15, 2001 by MLB Advanced Media LP (MLBAM), the interactive media and Internet company of Major League Baseball, offers fans the most comprehensive baseball information about the Minnesota Twins available on-line. Some of the features of the Twins' official website include the most up-to-date statistics, game summaries, extensive historical information, and exclusive features about Minnesota Twins events and programs, including on-line ticket sales, baseball merchandise, authenticated memorabilia and collectibles, fantasy games, live and archived radio broadcasts of every game, live and archived video webcasts of entire games, pitch-by-pitch enactment of games, and hosted post-game video highlight shows. New for 2006: Twins fans can download logos and sign up for alerts from their mobile phone. For more information, visit www.twinsbaseball.com

EARNED-RUNS RULE

The determination of earned-runs is as follows:

'An earned-run is a run for which the pitcher is held accountable. In determining earned-runs, the inning should be reconstructed without the errors and passed balls, and the benefit of the doubt should always be given to the pitcher in determining which bases would have been reached with errorless play.'

Until 1969, a reliever could not be charged with an earned-run if he entered the game after the side could have been retired but for an error, no matter how many runs he subsequently gave up in that inning. Now, runs scored by batters who reach base off the reliever are charged as earned on that pitcher's record. They are not, however, charged as earned against the team as a whole. Therefore, a discrepancy may occur between the total earned-runs charged against a team and the sum total of the earned-runs charged against the individual pitchers of that team.

SAVES RULE

Credit a pitcher with a save when he meets all three of the following conditions:
(1) He is the finishing pitcher in a game won by his club; and
(2) He is not the winning pitcher; and
(3) He qualifies under one of the following conditions:
(a) He enters the game with a lead of no more than three runs and pitches for at least one inning; or
(b) He enters the game with the potential tying run either on base, at bat or on deck; or
(c) He pitches effectively for at least three innings.

No more than one save may be credited in each game.

It is considered a 'blown save' when a pitcher who has entered a game in a save situation departs with the save situation no longer in effect because he has given up the lead. If the save situation still exists when he leaves the game, he is not charged with a save opportunity. And, if he has not given up the lead when he leaves the game, even though the save situation may no longer exist, he is not charged with a save opportunity.

DESIGNATED HITTER RULE

A hitter may be designated to bat for the pitcher in any spot in the batting order in any game without affecting the status of the pitcher. The designated hitter must be selected and be included on the lineup cards presented to the umpire-in-chief prior to the game. Failure to do so precludes the use of the designated hitter for that game.

The designated hitter is 'locked' into the batting order but may be removed for a pinch-hitter or pinch-runner, who in turn immediately becomes the designated hitter. The designated hitter, while still in the game, may be used defensively but the pitcher must then assume the batting of the replaced defensive player, thus terminating the designated hitter role. The designated hitter is eligible for all American League batting titles.

HOW TO FIGURE . . .

BATTING AVERAGE: Divide the number of safe hits by the total number of at-bats (at-bats do not include walks, sacrifices, hit-by-pitch or times awarded first on obstruction or interference).

SLUGGING PERCENTAGE: Divide the total bases of all safe hits by the total number of at-bats.

ON-BASE PERCENTAGE: Add the total number of hits, walks and hit-by-pitch and divide by the total of at-bats, walks, hit-by-pitches and sacrifice flies.

EARNED-RUN AVERAGE: Multiply the total number of earned runs by 9, then divide the result by the number of innings pitched.

FIELDING AVERAGE: Divide the total putouts and assists by the total of putouts, assists and errors (total chances).

CONSECUTIVE HITTING STREAKS: A consecutive hitting streak shall not be terminated if the plate appearance results in a base on balls, hit batsman, defensive interference or a sacrifice bunt. A sacrifice fly shall terminate the streak.

WON-LOST PERCENTAGE: Divide the number of games won by the total number of games played.

DID YOU KNOW???

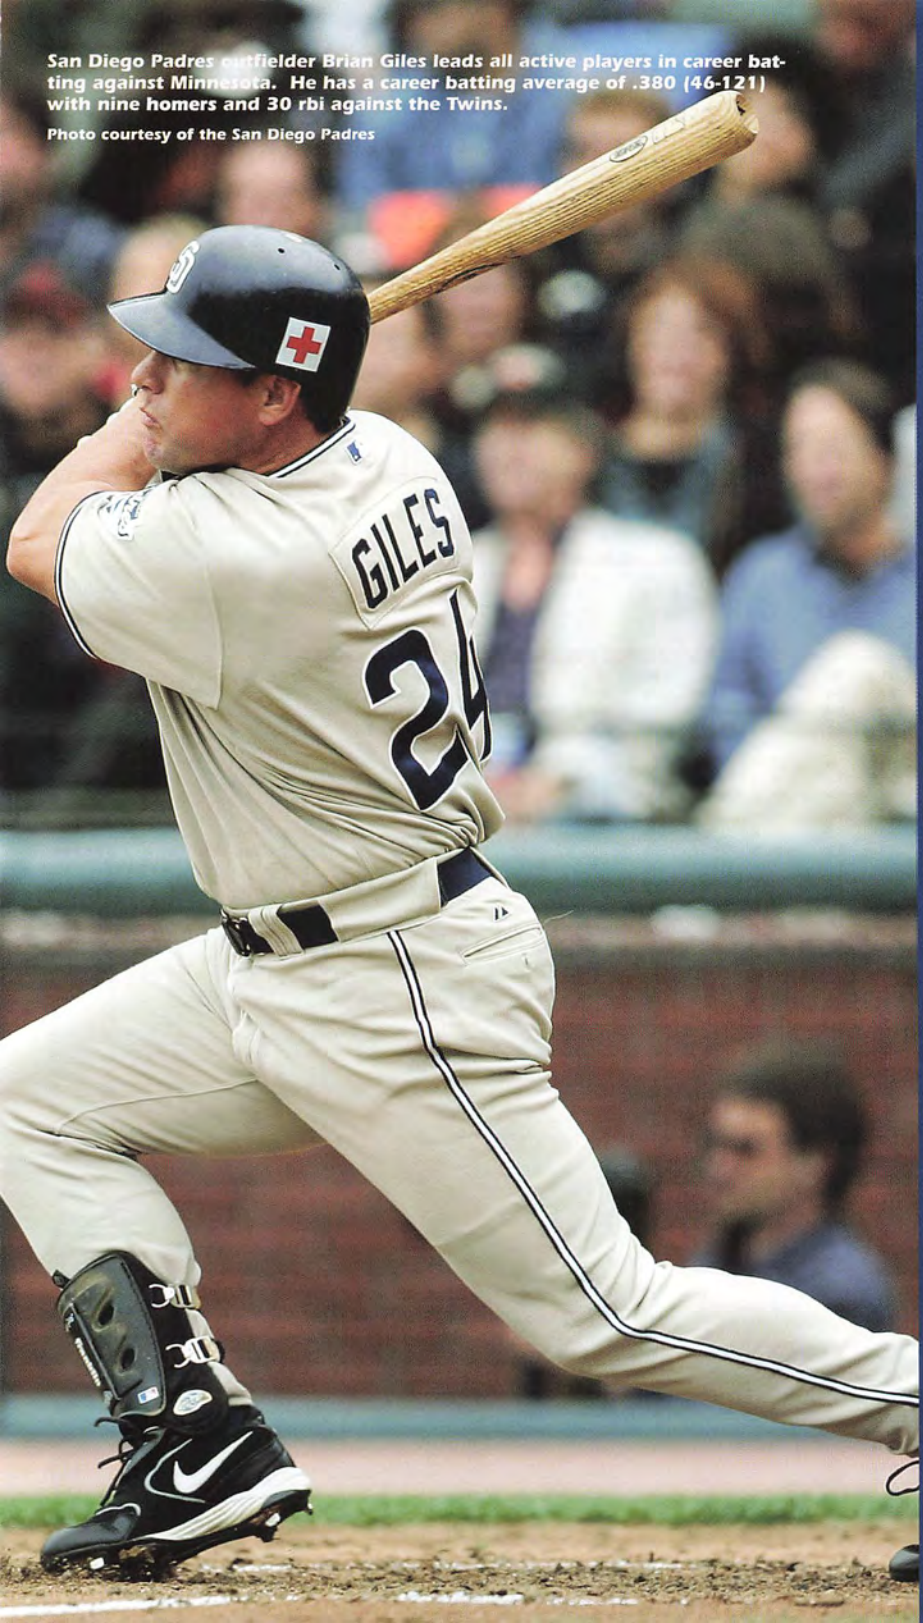
... that in 1976 Twin pitcher Bill Campbell went 17-5 with a 3.00 ERA and 20 saves in 78 relief appearances for the Twins. He became the second player in major league history to win and save at least 15 games in a season since saves became an official statistic in 1969 (Dodgers Mike Marshall won 15 and saved 21 in 1974). Campbell's 17 victories ties the American League record for wins in relief. In 1977, Twin reliever Tom Johnson became the third player in major league history to win and save at least 15 games. He finished the season 16-7 with a 3.12 ERA and 15 saves in 71 relief appearances.



San Diego Padres outfielder Brian Giles leads all active players in career batting against Minnesota. He has a career batting average of .380 (46-121) with nine homers and 30 rbi against the Twins.

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that the Twins drew 303,071 fans in six openings in Toronto in 1993, an average of 50,512 fans per opening. That bettered the club-record total of 302,104 the Twins drew in Toronto in six openings in 1992. With the exception of Toronto, the best total attendance the Twins have ever drawn in a city on the road is 269,217, which they attracted in six openings in Baltimore, also in 1993.

PINCH-HITTER RULE

A player shall be considered a pinch-hitter only if he enters the game as a substitute batter, and then only on his first time at bat, which must be before he becomes a fielder. (If the team bats around and a pinch-hitter comes up a second time in the inning in which he first appeared, he will not be considered a pinch-hitter during that second time up.)

A substitute hitter for a designated hitter is both a pinch-hitter and a designated hitter on his first time at bat. On subsequent trips to the plate he is a designated hitter only.

DID YOU KNOW???

that on 22 occasions Twins catchers and pitchers have combined to nab three would-be basestealers in a game, but only once, May 29, 1982, have they ever nailed four runners. Ken Griffey, Graig Nettles, Bobby Murcer and Willie Randolph were caught by catcher Sal Butera that day; Nettles and Murcer as part of a Twins' tripleplay.

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that only once in their 45 seasons have the Twins won three games in a row by the same score. They beat Boston on September 3, 1987, 2-1, and followed with 2-1 victories over Milwaukee the next two days, all three of which took place in the Metrodome. The Twins have twice lost three games in a row by the same score. They were 2-1 games, July 21-23, 1967 at California, and 4-3 decisions, May 2-4, 1988, the first two coming at Milwaukee and the third at Baltimore. There have been 15 other occasions when three straight Twins' games wound up with the same score, but with different winners.

DID YOU KNOW???

. that the longest home run ever hit in the Metrodome was hit into the second deck in right field by Milwaukee's Ben Oglivie off Brad Havens, July 27, 1983, a 481-ft. shot. Pedro Munoz holds the record for the longest homer to center field, 473-ft., off California's Mark Langston, April 5, 1994. Mark McGwire hit the longest boomer to left field, 475-ft., off Frank Rodriguez, June 9, 1996. The honor for the longest homer ever hit by a Twin in the Metrodome, however, belongs to Kent Hrbek, who smashed a 480-ft. shot to right field off Texas' Charlie Hough, September 9, 1984.

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that the Twins' best homestand ever took place during the 1991 season. The team went 10-0 from June 3-13 against Baltimore (3-0), Cleveland (4-0) and New York (3-0). The franchise's best road trip resulted in 7 wins in 8 tries, accomplished twice. The first was a New York, Milwaukee and Boston trip, April 28 to May 7, 1972 and with the second coming 30 years later on a Cleveland, Detroit and Chicago trip from July 17-July 24, 2002. The Twins have had two trips over the years on which they've won 10 games, however. They were 10-7 between July 23 and August 8, 1963, and 10-6 from August 14-27, 1967.

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that on September 22, 1968 vs. Oakland at Metropolitan Stadium Cesar Tovar became the second major leaguer ever to play all nine positions in one game. He is also the only position player to be the starting pitcher in Twins' history, as he tossed a scoreless first inning, including a strikeout of Reggie Jackson. He went on to catch, play first base, second base, shortstop, third base, left field, center field and right field for an inning apiece.

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that the longest home run ever hit by a Twin was estimated at 520 feet. Harmon Killebrew crushed the three-run blast off California righty Lou Burdette, which landed in the sixth row of the upper deck at Metropolitan Stadium on June 3, 1967. The ball cracked the seat, which was later painted orange to commemorate the event.

PLAYER LIMITS

Major league rosters are limited to 25 active players from Opening Day through August 31. Teams may expand their active rosters to as many as 40 players on September 1. During the course of the season, a team may place as many players as they want on the 15-day disabled list, during which they must remain inactive for a minimum of 15 days (no maximum). Teams may also place as many players as they need to on the 60-day emergency disabled list, where they must remain for a minimum of 60 days, but only when the club is at the maximum of 40 players. Players carried on this list are not counted in 40-man roster limit. If placed or transferred there after 60 days prior to the final game of the season, the player must remain there through post-season.

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that in 1997 Brad Radke won 12 decisions in 12 consecutive starts, becoming one of only four pitchers in the last 50 years to post a win in 12 straight starts.

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that when Rick Aguilera pinch-hit for Mark Guthrie in Game Three of the 1991 World Series, he became the first pitcher to be used in that role since Don Drysdale did so for the Dodgers in Game Two of the 1965 Series vs. Minnesota.

UMPIRE INTERVIEW POLICY

Major League umpires shall cooperate with the news media concerning controversial plays, protested games and unusual incidents, ejections, etc. Any unusual plays should be explained to the press box, usually between innings. Umpires are available for post-game interviews relative to unusual or controversial happenings. The senior umpire is in charge of such interviews and will act as a spokesman for the 'crew'.

CHAMPIONSHIP QUALIFICATIONS

A player must have a minimum of 502 plate appearances (at-bats, walks, hit-by-pitch, sacrifices, sacrifice flies and catcher's interference) to qualify for a major league batting-percentage championship.

If a batter falls short of 502 plate appearances, he might still be determined the batting champion if by adding a sufficient number of at-bats to his record to bring his plate appearances up to 502, his average based on these additional at-bats is still the highest in the league. His actual average, however, would be the official.

For the ERA title, a pitcher must pitch a minimum of 162 innings.

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that Roy Smalley and Chili Davis are the only two Twins ever to hit home runs from both sides of the plate in the same game. Smalley connected lefthanded in the third inning off Boston's Rob Woodward and righthanded in the seventh off Joe Sambito, May 30, 1986 in the Metrodome. Davis hit his first righthanded in the sixth inning off Kansas City's Chris Haney and lefthanded in the eighth off Steve Shifflett, October 2, 1992 at Kauffman Stadium.

ABOUT THE UNIFORMS

The 2006 season marks the 20th year in which the Twins will wear their current uniforms. The home jerseys are white with navy blue pinstripes and a "Twins" script in scarlet on the front and a Twins State of Minnesota patch on the left sleeve. The Twins have also added an alternate white pinstriped sleeveless jersey with a "Twins" script in scarlet on the front for the 2006 season. In mid 1996, names were added to the back of the home uniforms. The road uniforms are grey with navy pinstripes, block "Minnesota" in scarlet on the front, the Twins' primary logo on the left sleeve and names in navy on the back. The 1997 season marked the first time the Twins had an alternative or "Sunday" jersey. The jerseys are navy blue with red piping, the Twins' primary logo on the left sleeve and names in white on the back. The alternative road jersey has the block "Minnesota" on the front and the home jersey, which was introduced in 1999, has the "Twins" script on the front.

The hat, navy blue with an interlocking scarlet and white script "TC" is the home hat, and navy blue with a scarlet script "M", is used for road games. The alternate hat has a red crown and a blue bill with an interlocking scarlet and white script "TC". Some subtle changes were made in 1994 including the removal of the script "M" from the stirrups and the lightening of the blue, which has been made more standard to better match the blues of other teams.

FIGURING THE MAGIC NUMBER

To determine a team's 'magic number' in the pennant race, compute the number of games remaining, add one, then subtract the number of games ahead in the loss column of the standings of the closest opponent.

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that in 1991 the Twins became the first team in major league history to go from last place one season to World Champions the next.

ROBERTO CLEMENTE AWARD

Since 1971, Major League Baseball has annually presented an award that recognizes a player who best exemplifies the game of baseball through sportsmanship, community involvement and positive contributions to his team.

In 1973, following the tragic death of Roberto Clemente, the award was named to honor the man whose spirit and goodwill will always be remembered. The 12-time All-Star and Hall of Famer was killed in a plane crash in 1972 delivering food and medical supplies to earthquake victims of Nicaragua. The award recognizes those individuals who truly understand the value of helping others.

A panel of baseball dignitaries, including Vera Clemente and Commissioner Allan H. (Bud) Selig, annually selects the winner from a list of 30 candidates, one from each Major League Baseball Club. These local winners are announced in September during Roberto Clemente Day. The winner of the national Roberto Clemente Award is announced during a pre game ceremony at the World Series. Past winners include Jamie Moyer; Jim Thome; Rod Carew; Dave Winfield; Kirby Puckett; Curt Schilling; Al Leiter; Tony Gwynn, Willie Mays, Ozzie Smith, and Cal Ripken, Jr.

The 2005 Minnesota Twins Roberto Clemente Award nominee was outfielder Jacque Jones.

40TH SEASON ANNIVERSARY ALL-TIME TEAM

In 2000, the Minnesota Twins celebrated 40 years of baseball in Minnesota. As part of that celebration, the Twins announced the Twins All-Time Team as part of the ballclub's 40th Season Celebration.

Voting for the Twins All-Time Team was split into three phases, including: the Fans, the Upper Midwest Media and the Players (former/current Twins players and coaches). Each groups' vote counted one-third toward the final balloting results with the top vote recipients at each position automatically being named to the team. The All-Time Team selection committee reserved the right to name additional players to the final roster based upon overall vote totals.

The All-Time Team took part in an on-field pre-game ceremony on August 12, 2000 and a poster depicting the All-Time team was given to the first 10,000 fans in attendance, courtesy of the Star Tribune.

A total of 93 Twins players and managers were featured on the All-Time Team ballot which included categories for each of the following: Manager, Catcher, First Base, Second Base, Third Base, Shortstop, Outfield, Right-Hand Starting Pitcher, Left-Hand Starting Pitcher, Relief Pitcher, Designated Hitter, Pinch Hitter and Utility Player.

The Minnesota Twins 40th Season All-Time Team is comprised of 22 members of which ten were also on the club's 25th Anniversary Team in 1986 including catcher Earl Battey, first baseman Harmon Killebrew, second baseman Rod Carew, shortstop Zoilo Versalles, leftfielder Bob Allison, centerfielder Cesar Tovar, rightfielder Tony Oliva, righthanded pitcher Camilo Pascual, lefthanded pitcher Jim Kaat and relief pitcher Al Worthington. 25TH ANNIVERSARY TEAM

In 1986, the Minnesota Twins celebrated 25 years of baseball in Minnesota. As part of that celebration, the Twins held a 25th Anniversary Reunion on July 31-August 3. The weekend began with a banquet in which the Silver Anniversary Team, voted by fans, was announced (see above). The weekend concluded with an Old Timers game, featuring the 1965 World Series Twins playing a team consisting of other former Twins, and a pre-game ceremony honoring the Silver Anniversary Team. Fans were treated to a Camera Night in which they were able to take pictures with their favorite former Twins and received a framable poster which was a collage of the team. Below is the 25th Anniversary Team.

JIM RANTZ

Director of Minor League Operations

Jim Rantz has been a member of the Twins' organization since its inception in 1961 after signing his first professional contract with Washington in 1960. A former pitcher, Rantz, 68, was the winning pitcher for the University of Minnesota in the deciding game of the 1960 College World Series. He spent five years as a player and manager before joining the Twins' front office following the 1965 season.

He spent four years as Assistant Public Relations Director before moving into the minor league and scouting department. He was named Director of Minor League Operations in January, 1986.

Rantz' duties include full administration of the minor league department, including the working relationships with the Twins' six affiliates. He is responsible for player moves at the minor league level and for the development of young talent for the major league club. Rantz also handles contract negotiations with minor league players. In 1997, he was the Topps' Long and Meritorious Service Award winner and in 2000, the Twins organization was named Topps' Organization of the Year. Baseball America recognized the Twins as Organization of the Year in 2002 and 2004.

Jim and his wife, Pearl, have four grown children and make their home in Lino Lakes, MN.

MIKE RADCLIFF

Director of Scouting

Mike Radcliff begins his 19th year of scouting for the Twins and his 13th year as Director of Scouting. He currently holds the longest tenure of all Major League Scouting Directors. He oversees 28 full-time and 25 part-time scouts and coordinates the annual amateur draft as well as the international scouting world.

His scouting staff is responsible for drafting current Twins Jason Kubel (2000), Joe Mauer (2001) and Justin Morneau (1999) as well as former Twins Corey Koskie (1994), Jacque Jones (1996) and Doug Mientkiewicz (1995). Under the direction of Radcliff, the Twins have landed pitching prospects Scott Baker (2nd round, 2003), J.D. Durbin (2nd, 2000) and Glen Perkins (1st, 2004), infielder Matt Moses (1st, 2003) and outfielder Denard Span (1st, 2002).

Radcliff, 48, is a 1979 graduate of the University of Missouri and began his scouting career as an area scout with the Major League Scouting Bureau in 1983. He was then hired as an area scout by the Twins in 1987 and promoted to Midwest Supervisor in 1988.

Mike and his wife, Sherry, have two children, Erin and Brett, and currently reside in Overland Park, KS.

ROB ANTONY

Director of Baseball Operations

Rob Antony begins his 19th season in the Twins' organization and his 11th as Director of Baseball Operations. He is reponsible for various duties in the minor league and scouting departments including the spring training operation and free agent draft preparations. He is responsible for establishing and overseeing the budget for the minor league, major league and scouting departments as well as acting as the liaison between the IS and baseball departments in regards to the computer and scouting program. He travels to all the affiliates to evaluate players in the Twins' system and monitors the working relationship between the club and their affiliates. He also works closely with Mike Radcliff in the scouting department and scouts players eligible for the free agent draft as well as amateurs in Australia and Latin America.

Antony, 40, was hired as Assistant Director of Media Relations in 1988 after graduating from the University of Minnesota. He served as assistant until June of 1991 when he was promoted to Director of Media Relations. He held that post until December of 1995 before being promoted to his current position.

Rob and his wife, Lynn, have two children, Tyler and Emily, and reside in Rogers, MN.

JOEL LEPEL

Minor League Field Coordinator

Joel Lepel begins his first season as the Twins' Minor League Field Coordinator. He is responsible for evaluating minor league players and staff, coordinating and participating in on-field instruction, developing organization policies throughout the system and setting up and overseeing the daily workout schedule during spring training, regular season and instructional league.

Lepel, 48, spent the last five seasons as the Twins' Midwest Scouting Supervisor. Prio to that, he spent eight years as an area scout, covering the North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Iowa, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

A native of Plato, MN, Lepel was signed as an 18th round draft choice by the Montreal Expos out of Mankato State University in 1980. He spent three seasons as a player in the Expos' system, before coaching at Western Kentucky University and Clemson University from 1983-88. Lepel came to the Twins' organization in 1989, managing the Sarasota Twins (Rookie, Gulf Coast League) for two seasons and the Kenosha Twins (A, Midwest League) in 1991 before becoming an area scout.

Joel, his wife Elynn and daughter Taylor reside in Plato, MN.

DAVID WINFREE AND FRANCISCO LIRIANO NAMED 2005 TWINS' MINOR LEAGUE PLAYER AND PITCHER OF THE YEAR

Third baseman David Winfree was named the 2005 Sherry Robertson Award winner as the Twins' Minor League Player of the Year and leftthanded pitcher Francisco Liriano was named the 2005 Jim Rantz Award winner as the Twins' Minor League Pitcher of the Year.

The 20-year-old Winfree spent the 2005 season at Beloit (A, Midwest League) and batted .294 (165-562) with 31 doubles, five triples, 16 home runs, 101 rbi and 80 runs scored in 135 games for the Snappers. He was the Midwest League Player of the Week, June 21-27 and the Twins' Minor League Player of the Week, batting .393 (11-28) with three doubles, a homer and 12 rbi, July 1-7.

The 6-foot-3, 225-pounder led the Snappers in batting, games, at-bats, total bases (254), homers and rbi, was second in runs and doubles and tied for third in triples. Winfree led the Midwest League in hits and was named to the Midwest League Post-Season All-Star team. He was also named to Baseball America's Low Class A All-Star Team and was rated the 14th Best Prospect in Midwest League by Baseball America. Winfree led the Twins' organization in rbi, was second in at-bats, hits and total bases, tied for fourth in doubles, fifth in runs, tied for fifth in triples, tied for sixth in homers and was seventh in games.

Liriano, 22, began the season at New Britain (AA, Eastern League) and was 3-5, 3.64 (76.2 ip, 31 er) with 26 walks and 92 strikeouts in 13 starts. He was promoted to Rochester on June 17 and was 9-2, 1.78 (91.0 ip, 18 er) with 24 walks and 112 strikeouts in 14 starts. His 204 strikeouts led all minor league pitchers. Liriano was recalled by the Twins on September 2, made his major league debut in relief on September 5 vs. Texas, first career start on September 14 at Detroit and recorded his first win on September 30 vs. Detroit. He was 1-2, 5.70 (23.2 ip, 15 er) with 7 walks and 33 strikeouts in six appearances (four starts) with the Twins.

The 6-foot-2, 200-pound lefthander was named the International League Pitcher of the Week, July 12-18 and July 26-August 1, Twins' Minor League Pitcher of the Month for July and Topps' Minor League Pitcher of the Month for July. Liriano pitched for the World Team at the MLB Futures Game in Detroit, was named the Interanational League Rookie of the Year and USA Today's Minor League Player of the Year. He was also named to the Triple-A All-Star team and Minor League All-Star team by Baseball America. Liriano was rated the Top Prospect in Eastern League and second Best Prospect in International League, while being named Triple-A Player of the Year, also by Baseball America.

The Sherry Robertson Award, named in honor of the Twins' first farm director, was established in 1970 to recognize the Twins top minor league performer each season. Beginning in 2002, the award recognized the Twins' Minor League Player of the Year while the Jim Rantz award, named after the current Twins minor league director, was created to recognize the Twins' Minor League Pitcher of the Year.

2005 MINOR LEAGUE RECAP

ROCHESTER (75-69, AAA, International League) – The Red Wings were in the hunt for the North Division title until the end. But after beating Ottawa on August 26 to reach their highwater mark of the season at 10 games over .500, they proceeded to lose their next six games before winning three of their last four. Rochester finished in a tie for second with Pawtucket, seven games behind Buffalo. The winning season was the second consecutive for the Wings who had not previously posted a winning record since 1997. Offensively, the Wings were sixth in the league in batting (.272), eighth in hits (1315) and home runs (139), while averaging 4.81 runs-per-game. The offense boasted six hitters over the .300 mark including SS Jason Bartlett (.332), 2B/LF Brent Abernathy (.326), late-season addition RF Brian Buchanan (.316), Chris Heintz (.304), Luis Rodriguez (.304) and Glenn Williams (.303) with all but Buchanan spending time in Minnesota. Garrett Jones led the club in home runs (24) and rbi (72). The pitching staff compiled a 4.13 ERA, which ranked fourth in the league, and was led by IL ERA champion Scott Baker (3.01), IL strikeouts leader Boof Bonser (168), Travis Bowyer, who tied for third in the league in saves (23), reliever Willie Eyre (10-3, 2.72) and International League Rookie of the Year Francisco Liriano who joined the club in mid-June and went on to post a 9-2, 1.78 record for Rochester, allowing just 56 hits and 24 walks while fanning 112 in 91 innings. His combined total of 204 strikeouts between New Britain and Rochester led all minor leaguers. Rochester sent 12 players to Minnesota at some point during the season (Abernathy, Bartlett, Heintz, Luis Rodriguez, Michael Ryan, Terry Tiffee, Jason Tyner, Williams, Baker, Bowyer, Dave Gassner and Liriano). Heintz was named as the Red Wings' Most Valuable Player and Liriano was named USA Today Minor League Player of the Year. The Wings also had two pitchers, Eyre and Bowyer, selected to play in the Triple-A All-Star Game in Sacramento, July 13. Bowyer was the lone Wings representative on the IL Post-Season All-Star Team.

NEW BRITAIN (70-72, AA, Eastern League) – After posting a 40-54 record through July 17, the Cats won nine straight to climb up to five under the .500 mark. After winning streaks of seven and six games in August they finally reached the .500 level, but they lost their final two games to finish in fourth place in the Northern Division, two games under. They were third in the Eastern League in batting (.265), sixth in runs (647) and 10th in home runs (105). The Rock Cats boasted three of the top four hit leaders in the league in LF Alex Romero (153, second), RF Doug Deeds (150, tied for third) and 1B Danny Matienzo (150, tied for third). Deeds (.304, fifth) and Romero (.301, sixth) were among the batting leaders. Matienzo was also third in the league in doubles (36) and extra-base hits (61) and he was fifth in rbi (87). Deeds was second in the league in on-base percentage (.382) and tied for fourth in doubles (34). On the mound, the New Britain pitching staff led the league in complete games (7), they ranked fifth in hits allowed (1212) and ninth in ERA (4.10). RP Pat Neshek tied for third in the league in saves (24) and was fifth in games (55) while RP Nick Blackburn tied for third in complete games (2) and was one of 12 EL pitchers to throw a shutout. Deeds, Matienzo and LP Jason Miller all participated in the Eastern League All-Star Game on July 13, with Matienzo going 3-3 with two runs, a double and rbi to earn MVP honors. Romero was named to the EL Post-Season All-Star Team.

FT. MYERS (74-59, A, Florida State League) - The Miracle put together two solid halves, going 37-27 in the first half and 37-32 in the second half, but failed to qualify for the FSL playoffs despite finishing with the fourth-best record in the league with first-year manager Riccardo Ingram at the helm. They were fifth in the league in stolen bases (123), seventh in batting (.255), 10th in hits (1097) and last in homers (56). Conversely, the pitching staff led the league in ERA (3.35), hits allowed (1077), complete games (10) and they were second in shutouts (13). RP Adam Harben tied for the league lead in shutouts (2) and walks (62) and tied for second in complete games (2) and he was fourth in the league in ERA (2.66). RP Nick Blackburn, 3B Matt Moses and CF Denard Span represented the Miracle in the FSL All-Star Game, June 18 in Clearwater. All three players were promoted to New Britain after the game. For the season, the Miracle had 10 players promoted to New Britain (Felix Molina, Kyle Phillips, JR Taylor, Jan Granado, Jannio Gutierrez, Glen Perkins and Errol Simonitsch).

BELOIT (69-71, A, Midwest League) - The Twins first season in Beloit proved to be an exciting one. Despite fielding one of the youngest teams in the league, the Snappers posted respectable records in both halves (33-37 in the first half and 36-34 in the second half) as they secured a Wild Card spot in the playoffs by defeating eventual Midwest League Champion Wisconsin on the final day of the season to get into the playoffs. They won the first game of the best-of-three series vs. Wisconsin, but lost the next two as they were eliminated. The final game of the series ended on a 2-run walk-off homer in the bottom of the 10th inning. Beloit was led by a strong pitching staff that led the league in strikeouts (1186) by more than 150 K's, but they also tied for the lead league in home runs allowed. They ranked fifth in the league in ERA (4.11), despite boasting the league's ERA champion as LP Kyle Aselton fashioned a nifty 2.49 ERA while holding opposing hitters to a paltry .199 batting-average-against. RP J.P. Martinez was fourth in the league in saves (20) and held opponents to a .194 batting-average-against. 3B David Winfree led the league in rbi (101) and hits (165) and RF Deacon Burns tied for the league-lead in triples (13) and extra-base hits (61) and he was second in doubles (36). The Snappers were 10th in the league in batting, but they tied for sixth in runs scored (695). RP's Jay Rainville (8-2, 3.77 before getting promoted to Ft. Myers) and Anthony Swarzak (9-5, 4.04 before getting promoted to Ft. Myers), along with RF Deacon Burns and C Javier Sanchez represented the Beloit in the Midwest League All-Star Game, June 21 at Peoria. Winfree was the lone player named to the Midwest League Post-Season All-Star Team.

ELIZABETHTON (48-19, Rookie Advanced, Appalachian League) - The E-Twins led the West Division from start to finish as they jumped out to 10-4 start and followed that up with a 14-game win streak, July 5-20, to raise their record to 24-4. They never looked back as they won the division by 17.5 games. They faced the Danville Braves (47-20, +12.0) who dominated the East division much like E-Town did in the West. LP Ryan Mullins, who was third in the league in ERA (2.18), started the opening playoff game and fanned 13 in five innings, but Yohan Pino, who led the league in wins (9), picked up the win in relief. RP Tim Lahey, who tied for the league-lead in saves, picked up the save in front of the home fans. Danville blew out the Twins in the second game, 15-2, in Danville. The Twins rebounded to win the deciding game, 5-4 as LF Mark Robinson drove in two runs, including the game winner in the eighth inning. Lahey picked up the save as he pitched a perfect ninth inning with a pair of strikeouts. Elizabethton has finished first or second in the West Division for six consecutive seasons. For the season, they were second in the league in batting (.280) and hits (624), third in home runs (62) and they struck out the fewest times in the league (460). 2B/OF Juan Portes tied for third in the league in home runs (12). The pitching staff led the league in ERA (3.30), wins (48), fewest hits allowed (473), shutouts (8), walks (170) and they were second in strikeouts (612) and tied for second fewest homers allowed (42). RP Adam Hawes led the league in ERA (1.53) and tied for the league lead in complete games (1) and shutouts (1). LP Alex Smit led the league in strikeouts (86) despite pitching in relief as he averaged 16.95 strikeouts per-9-innings. He also tied for second in the league in wins (6). Lahey tied for the league lead in saves (15) and games (26). Smit was named to the Appalachian League Post-Season All-Star Team and Ray Smith was named Manager of the Year.

GCL TWINS (28-26, Rookie, Gulf Coast League) - The GCL Twins tied for second, two games back in the South Division. COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIP PLAN

The College Scholarship Plan is a program designed to assist players in financing their education at a college or university. Each major league team agrees to contribute money, as arranged between the team and player, upon signing with the club. The scholarship includes tuition, room and board, and books for a specified number of semesters at an academic institution of the players choice. The Minnesota Twins have participated in the plan since 1962.

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that the Twins' farm system had the ERA Champion in four of the six leagues in which they had an affiliate during the 2005 season. Scott Baker led the International League (3.01), Kyle Aselton led the Midwest League (2.49), Adam Hawes led the Appalachian League (1.53) and Kyle Edlich led the Gulf Coast League (1.70).

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that the Twins' farm system has produced 38 batting champions, 50 home run leaders and 53 rbi champions over the 46 seasons since 1960. Included are two 'Triple Crown' winners: outfielder Andy Kosco with Bismarck-Mandan of the Class A Northern League in 1964, and outfielder Moe Hill of Wisconsin Rapids in the Class A Midwest League in 1974. Infielder Ruben Salazar of Elizabethton in the Appalachain Rookie League just missed winning the 'Triple Crown' in 1999.

DOMINICAN REPUBLIC BASEBALL ACADEMY

The Twins Dominican Republic operations were completely revamped following the 2003 season. The club relocated its training complex to a brand new state-of-the-art baseball complex in Boca Chica, which opened in May, 2004.

The Complejo Latinamericano de Beisbol, S.A. (a.k.a. "Baseball City") houses four major league organizations: Arizona, Chicago Cubs, Cincinnati and the Twins. Each club has its own individual facilities within one large complex.

The club provides housing and meals for amateur players working out in the Academy program, as well as for its professional players on the Dominican Summer League team.

A lower level of the two-story building includes a locker room, weight training room, office/meeting space, laundry, kitchen and a large dining room. The second floor features seven dormitory rooms which can accommodate up to 56 players, two large staff rooms, and a large game room. Programs are provided year-round to teach English and cultural development to all signed players.

Boca Chica is located 30 minutes east of downtown Santo Domingo, and the Twins complex is just 10 minutes from the international airport.

The playing facilities include a full-sized playing field, an additional infield for workouts and drills, two covered batting tunnels and a 6-mound training area for pitchers.

The Twins Dominican facility is in full operation from February through mid-December.

VENEZUELA BASEBALL ACADEMY

The Twins Venezuela Baseball Academy finished its 10th year in Bejuma, Carabobo, Venezuela. The Twins facilities are among the best in Venezuela, including a 3,000 square foot dormitory and clubhouse building which opened in February, 2000. The facilities include two large sleeping rooms, locker room, training and exercise areas, and office space.

The club provides housing and meals to its professional players in a mini-camp prior to Spring Training and during a Fall Instructional League in October. Amateur players are invited to attend workouts in 30-day programs throughout the season.

Since opening the Academy in 1995, the Twins have signed 43 players including major league players Luis Rivas and Juan Rincon.

MISCELLANEOUS

MINNESOTA TWINS IN THE COMMUNITY

The Minnesota Twins and the Minnesota Twins Community Fund made collective contributions of $3.3 million in support to Upper Midwest Charities during the 2005 Twins season. Support includes cash grants, community program expenses, and donations of Twins tickets and memorabilia. In addition, current and former Twins players helped raise more than $835,000 for Minnesota nonprofit organizations through their involvement in charity fundraising events.

Here is a summary of notable 2005 community accomplishments:

Twins Community Fund Contributions/Outreach

- The Fields for Kids program granted $217,000 to renovate 37 Upper Midwest, Southwest Florida and Latin American ballfields (since 1999, more than one million dollars have been granted to renovate or build 250 ball fields).
- The Twins Youth Clinic program visited more than 35 Upper Midwest and 15 Southwest Florida communities providing free baseball and softball instruction to more than 12,000 youth.
- Grants totaling more than $139,000 were made to the Minneapolis and St. Paul Parks and Recreation departments and the Duluth, Rochester (MN) and Winnipeg (Manitoba) Boys & Girls Clubs to operate Twins Rookie League and R.B.I., inner-city youth baseball and softball leagues. More than 8,000 youth participated in Twins Rookie League and R.B.I. programs in 2005.
- More than $155,000 was contributed to support TwinsCare, a ticket donation program for disadvantaged youth and families.
- Thirteen thousand dollars in grants was donated to 12 youth baseball and softball organizations to support regional tournaments.

- Minneapolis and St. Paul held the R.B.I. Central Regional Tournament hosting more than 450 youth from around the United States.
- Eight youth-serving nonprofit organizations received a total of $7,000 in grants to support innovative efforts to expand youth baseball and softball in their respective communities.
- The Twins Wives Organization directed $45,000 in grants to Care Partners, a Division of Children's Cancer Research Fund, Human Services, Inc., Camp Heartland and Gillette Children's Specialty Healthcare.
- In its inaugural year, 19 Upper Midwest high school seniors each received $1,000 in scholarship support for post secondary education via the Diamonds & Dreams Scholarship Program.
- A collaboration of Minnesota youth baseball and softball organizations, called Play Ball! Minnesota, created a website (www.playballmn.com) to foster and promote youth baseball and softball. The collaboration also hosted the first-of-its-kind Youth Baseball and Softball Conference in April.

Minnesota Twins Community Support

- More than 2,500 community organizations received donations of Twins memorabilia to help raise funds for their work. Those organizations reported raising more than $350,000 as a result of Twins' contributions.
- More than 60 current and former Twins players and their wives helped to raise more than $835,000 via fundraising events for Upper Midwest and Southwest Florida charities.
- More than $2.15 million dollars in Twins tickets were donated to Upper Midwest nonprofit organizations serving economically-disadvantaged youth.
- Twenty thousand dollars was contributed to the ALS Association, Minnesota Chapter as part of the Carrier Strike Out ALS "K" Counter.
- Eight thousand Minnesota middle school students achieving perfect attendance between March and June attended a Twins game for free and were recognized on the field before the game.

- Twenty-seven thousand free books, courtesy of Lerner Publications, were distributed before Sunday Twins homes games.
- Twenty-five thousand essays were submitted by Minnesota youth nominating their fathers for the "Father of the Year." This year's winner was recognized on the field before a Twins home game.
- Twenty youth sports coaches received the 3M/Minnesota Twins Totally Awesome Coaches Award before Twins home games.
- The Minnesota Twins made more than $70,000 in corporate grants to Upper Midwest charities.
- Twins players and the team's mascot, T.C., made more than 250 community appearances during the season.
- More than 25,000 Twins incentive items were donated to 45 public libraries across the state to help promote participation in summer reading programs.
- The Minnesota Twins helped raise more than $230,000 for Hurricane Katrina relief efforts.

MINNESOTA TWINS IN THE COMMUNITY

2006 Twins Community Fund Programs

The Minnesota Twins Community Fund was chartered as an independent public charity in 1994 to lead the team's community work. The Fund's mission is:

"To enrich local and regional communities by providing resources for the healthy development of children and families through an association with baseball, softball and the Minnesota Twins."

The Fund will meet its mission through the operation of the following programs and activities benefiting Upper Midwest, Southwest Florida and Latin American communities, including the distribution of more than $650,000 in 2006.

HARMON KILLEBREW

One of the greatest home run hitters of all time, Harmon Killebrew will forever be remembered to Twins fans as the 'Killer' for his prolific clouts. A member of the Twins from their inaugural Minnesota season in 1961, Killebrew hit 573 career home runs, 475 of them in his 14 seasons with the Twins, to place him 8th on the all-time home run list and second only to Babe Ruth in American League history. He hit over 40 home runs on eight occasions and 30-or-more 10 times while driving in 100-plus runs nine times.

Killebrew was the American League's Most Valuable Player in 1969 when he hit 49 home runs with an amazing 140 rbi and 145 walks, all team records that still stand. He was elected to the Baseball Hall of Fame in 1984, the first Twin to receive that honor. He had his number 3 formally retired May 4, 1975, was selected to the Twins' 25th Anniversary Team in 1986 and 40th Season Anniversary All-Time Team in 2000 and was inducted into the Twins Hall of Fame on August 12, 2000.

ROD CAREW

No Twins fan will ever forget the graceful power of Rod Carew's hitting stroke. Nor will any baseball enthusiast be able to forget the summer of 1977, when he made his determined run at the untouchable .400 mark, because, just as Killebrew embodied the power of the game, Carew represented the finesse. He was a career .328 hitter in his 19 major league seasons and was the winner of seven American League batting titles, all during his twelve years with Minnesota. Carew hit .300 or better 15 consecutive seasons and finished his career with 3,053 hits, which places him 21st among the all-time hit leaders and makes him one of only 26 players to collect 3000-or-more career hits.

Carew, who won his only American League Most Valuable Player award in 1977 when he finished with a .388 average, was elected to the Baseball Hall of Fame on the first ballot in 1991. He had his number 29 retired July 19, 1987, was selected to the Twins' 25th Anniversary Team in 1986 and 40th Season Anniversary All-Time Team in 2000 and was inducted into the Twins Hall of Fame on August 12, 2000.

TONY OLIVA

Pedro 'Tony' Oliva Jr., or 'Tony-O' to those who followed his 24-year career as a Twins' player and coach, was a man who seemed to excel in all aspects of the game. He could hit for power and average, run, field and throw, and his versatility made him one of the most feared hitters of his day.

Tony-O collected 1,917 hits and retired with a .304 career average. He is the only player to win batting titles in his first two seasons and was the winner of three in his 15-year career, which still stands as the club's longevity mark. His prowess as a hitter was demonstrated in the fact that he led the league in hits five times, and his 220 career home runs rank third all-time among Twins. If not for knee problems which cut short his career, Oliva would have been a certain choice for the Hall of Fame.

Oliva, the 1964 American League Rookie of the Year, began his coaching career in 1976. He now works as a hitting instructor in the Twins' minor league system and scouts for the club. He had his number 6 retired July 14, 1991, was selected to the Twins' 25th Anniversary Team in 1986 and 40th Season Anniversary All-Time Team in 2000 and was inducted into the Twins Hall of Fame on August 12, 2000.

KENT HRBEK

Kent Hrbek grew up in the shadows of old Metropolitan Stadium in Bloomington and was destined to become a Minnesota Twin. The big kid who played the game as hard as anyone, had more fun than most, treated Twins fans to much excitement from the day he donned a Twins uniform. From the time he homered in the 12th inning at Yankee Stadium to give the Twins a win on August 24, 1981, until the last game of his career, August 10, 1994, when he came up with the bases loaded three times against Boston as the fans were on their feet every at-bat.

Hrbek, who was runner-up to Cal Ripken for American League Rookie of the Year in 1982, made his only All-Star appearance that season. He was most appreciated by his teammates and Twins' fans for his upper-deck power and agility and for being one of the best ever to play first base in the majors. He is among club leaders in nearly every offensive category, but may be best-remembered for his Game Six grand slam in the 1987 World Series or for his tag of Atlanta's Ron Gant in Game Two of the 1991 World Series. He had his number 14 formally retired August 13, 1995, was selected to the Twins' 40th Season Anniversary All-Time Team in 2000 and was inducted into the Twins Hall of Fame on August 12, 2000.

KIRBY PUCKETT

Considered by most to be the greatest Twin ever, 'Puck' was baseball's jewel for 12 incredible seasons. His story was about being a hero from day one when he became the ninth player in history to collect 4 hits in his first game, May 8, 1984 at California. The dramatic entrance proved to be just the first of many heroic performances leading up to his most shining moment on October 26, 1991 during Game Six of the World Series versus Atlanta. He went 3 for 4, made a leaping catch off the plexiglass robbing Ron Gant of a sure extra-base hit and became the ninth player to end a World Series with a home run on the final pitch off Charlie Leibrandt in the 11th inning to force a seventh game.

The 10-time All-Star, 6-time Gold Glove Award winner and 5-time Silver Slugger Award winner had his career cut short when he awoke with blurred vision caused by glaucoma on the morning of March 28, 1996. He was later forced to announce his retirement due to irreversible damage to the retina in his right eye on July 12. He retired as the Twins' all-time leader in hits (2,304), doubles (414), total bases (3,453), at-bats (7,244) and runs (1,071).

Besides his endless on the field accomplishments, Puckett is also one of the game's greatest community leaders and was given Major League Baseball's Roberto Clemente Man of the Year Award in 1996. He was elected to the Baseball Hall of Fame on the first ballot in 2001, becoming the third-youngest living electee in baseball history (behind Sandy Koufax and Lou Gehrig). He had his number 34 formally retired May 25, 1997, was selected to the Twins' 40th Season Anniversary All-Time Team in 2000 and was inducted into the Twins Hall of Fame on August 12, 2000.

JACKIE ROBINSON

Jackie Robinson broke baseball's color barrier when Branch Rickey brought him up to the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1947. He brought a dynamic style of play to the game and terrorized the base paths. Robinson also proved to be a an excellent hitter and a superb defensive infielder. He was voted the National League MVP in 1949 when he hit a a league-leading .342 and drove in 124 runs. He batted .311 in his 10-year career and set several fielding records for second baseman.

In conjunction with the 50th anniversary celebration of Robinson breaking baseball's color barrier, Commissioner Bud Selig announced on April 15, 1997 at Shea Stadium that Major League Baseball will retire his uniform number 42 in perpetuity. The Minnestota Twins officially retired his number on May 23, 1997.

MINNESOTA TWINS HALL OF FAME

The Minnesota Twins Hall of Fame, which honors players, coaches and off-field personnel who have contributed to the organization's growth and success since the Twin Cities broke into the major leagues in 1961, was created as part of the club's 40th Season Celebration in 2000.

The inaugural class of Twins Hall of Famers, inducted on August 12, 2000, included Harmon Killebrew, Rod Carew, Tony Oliva, Kent Hrbek, Kirby Puckett and Calvin Griffith. The 2001 class included Herb Carneal and Jim Kaat while Bert Blyleven and Tom Kelly were inducted in 2002. Bob Allison and Bob Casey were inductees for 2003, Earl Battey was honored in 2004 and Carl Pohlad and Frank Viola in 2005.

Below is the criteria for the Minnesota Twins Hall of Fame.

Uniform – Service time of three seasons and a two-year waiting period following retirement from Major League Baseball. Voting is conducted by a 53-member committee, which includes the fan vote as one "member". A total of 40 votes (75%) are required for election in the Uniform category. If however, more than one candidate receives 75% of the vote, only the highest vote getter is elected unless the top candidate received at least 90% of the votes. Should no candidate receive the required number of votes, the top vote getter will be inducted. No more than two Uniform candidates will be elected per year.

Non-Uniform – Will be elected in odd-numbered years by a 14-member veterans committee consisting of living Twins Hall of Fame members, Twins front office personnel, and local Twins historians. Those eligible to be voted into the Twins Hall of Fame via the Veterans Committee balloting can include ownership, scouts, broadcasters, media and front office personnel. The highest vote getter is elected, with a second candidate gaining election if they also receive 75% of the vote.

MINNESOTA TWINS HALL OF FAME

Calvin Griffith

President and Principal Owner, 1961-83

Griffith was instrumental in bringing Major League Baseball to the state of Minnesota. He moved the Washington Senators to the Twin Cities for the 1961 season, providing Minnesota with their first major league sports team.

In his 24 seasons as president and principal owner, the Twins were 1,930-1,887 with three American League West Division championships (1965, '69 and '70), one American League pennant (1965), and one All-Star Game (1965) while attracting 25,664,104 fans.

Griffith was involved in baseball for over 60 years and was known not only for his keen eye of baseball talent but his deep passion for the game. He was a member of the inaugural class of the Twins Hall of Fame, inducted on August 12, 2000. Griffith passed away from complications from a kidney infection on October 20, 1999. He is memorialized in the Metrodome with a row of seats from Metropolitan Stadium. "Calvin's" seats host underprivileged families at every Twins home game.

Class of 2001

Herb Carneal

Radio Broadcaster, 1962-present

The dean of American League radio broadcasters, Carneal has been broadcasting Twins' games for 44 years. He was the 1996 recipient of the Ford C. Frick Award, the highest honor given to a baseball broadcaster, which is presented annually to broadcasters who make major contributions to baseball and its fans.

Hired away from the Baltimore Orioles in 1961 where he was part of the play-by-play team for five years, Carneal has been behind the microphone for all but the first of the Twins' 45 seasons.

Jim Kaat

Lefthanded Pitcher, 1961-73

Kaat spent 13 of his 25 major league seasons with the Twins, and won 10 or more games for the Twins in every season except his first (1961), when he won nine games. Kaat's best season in his career came in 1966 when he was selected to his second of three career All-Star appearances ('62 and '75). He finished the season 25-13 with a 2.75 ERA, leading the league in games started, wins, innings pitched and complete games. Kaat was also known for his outstanding defense as he won 16 consecutive Rawlings Gold Gloves from 1962-77.

Kaat pitched in the postseason in two separate years for the Twins, the 1965 World Series and the 1970 American League Championship Series. He is the Twins All-Time leader in wins (189), games started (422) and innings pitched (2959.1) and is second in complete games (133), shutouts (23) and strikeouts (1824). Kaat was also selected lefthanded pitcher on the Twins' 25th Anniversary Team in 1986 and on the Twins' 40th Season Anniversary All-Time Team in 2000.

Class of 2002

Bert Blyleven
Righthanded Pitcher, 1970-76 and 1985-88

A third round pick by the Twins in the 1969 draft, Blyleven spent 11 years with the Twins' (1970-76 and '85-88) during his 22-year career. The two-time All-Star (1973 and '85) led the league in innings pitched in back-to-back years (1985-'86) and also led the league in shutouts on three occasions (1973, '85, '89).

Blyleven pitched in three League Championship Series' - 1970 and '87 with the Twins and 1979 with Pittsburgh, along with two World Series' - 1979 and '87. He is the Twins' All-Time leader in complete games (141), shutouts (29) and strikeouts (2,035), and is second in wins (149) and innings pitched (2566.1). He is also fifth on Major League Baseball's All-Time list in strikeouts (3701). Blyleven along with Jim Perry and Camilo Pascual were selected righthanded pitchers on the Twins' 40th Season Anniversary All-Time Team in 2000.

Tom Kelly
Manager, 1986-2001

"TK" took over the managerial duties for the Twins on September 12, 1986. In his first full season (1987) as the skipper, he led the Twins to their first World Series Championship. It was the first time in major league history that a team went from last place one season to World Champions the next.

Kelly had a managerial record of 1140-1244, which places him first on the Twins' All-Time list in wins and games managed. At the time of his retirement after the 2001 season, Kelly was the longest tenured manager/coach in all of major sports. Kelly was selected manager on the Twins' 40th Season Anniversary All-Time Team in 2000.

Class of 2003

Bob Allison
Outfielder, 1961-70

Allison was the American League Rookie of the Year and an All-Star while beginning his career with the Washington Senators in 1959. He continued his success in the major leagues when the Seanators moved to Minnesota in 1961. Allison will be remembered most by Twins' fans for his diving catch in Game 2 of the 1965 World Series. He was also selected to the All-Star team in the 1963 and '64 seasons. Allison was also selected left fielder on the Twins' 25th Anniversary Team in 1986 and outfielder on the Twins' 40th Season Anniversary All-Time Team in 2000.

Allison passed away after a long battle with Ataxia in 1995.

Bob Casey
Public Address Announcer, 1961-2004

The only public address announcer the team had ever known, Casey was a part of the Twins since the move from Washington in 1961. With his voice being a fixture for Twins' fans, he exuded enthusiasm and excitement game after game, year after year. From the first pitch at Metropolitan Stadium in 1961 to his final game in 2004, Casey was the man behind the microphone.

Casey passed away in 2005, from complications of liver cancer.

MINNESOTA TWINS HALL OF FAME

Class of 2004

Earl Battey
Catcher, 1961-67

Battey spent parts of 13 seasons in the big leagues including seven with the Minnesota Twins from 1961-67. In his seven seasons as a Twin he batted .278 (768-2762) with 76 home runs and 350 rbi in 853 games. He was instrumental in the Twins 1965 World Series appearance vs. the Los Angeles Dodgers batting .297 in 131 games during the season.

Battey's numerous accolades include; four All-Star appearances (1962, '63, '65 and '66), three Gold Glove Awards as a catcher (1960, '61 and '62), three top ten American League MVP Award finishes (1960, '63 and '65) and the 1963 Calvin R. Griffith Award as Most Valuable Twin. Battey was also selected catcher on the Twins' 25th Anniversary Team in 1986 and on the Twins' 40th Season Anniversary All-Time Team in 2000.

Battey passed away in 2003, from complications of a long bout with cancer.

Class of 2005

Carl R. Pohlad
Owner, 1984-present

With the franchise facing a possible move out of state, Pohlad purchased the Twins in 1984. He was motivated by a sense of community responsibility and a feeling that major league sports, particularly baseball, are important assets that contribute to the quality of life in their communities.

Pohlad has enjoyed great success since taking ownership of the Twins by providing leadership that has resulted in two World Series Championships in 1987 and '91 and back-to-back-to-back American League Central Division Championships from 2002-04.

The on-field success of the franchise is largely due to Pohlad's ability to build and manage an exceptional baseball organization with a strong emphasis on player development. In addition, the Pohlad family has given millions of dollars and countless hours of their time back to the community and region through programs in the Twins Community Fund and the Carl and Eloise Pohlad Family Foundation.

Frank Viola
Lefthanded Pitcher, 1982-89

"Sweet Music" was a mainstay in the Twins starting rotation from 1982-89, winning at least 16 games per season from 1984-88 and helping the Twins to their first World Series Championship in 1987.

Viola was named 1987 World Series MVP posting wins in Games 1 and 7 and had his finest individual season in 1988, when he posted a 24-7 record and a 2.64 ERA to earn American League Cy Young Award honors.

Viola ranks among the top ten in several Twins all-time pitching categories, including wins (112, 5th), games started (259, 4th), complete games (50, 6th), shutouts (10, tied for 7th), innings pitched (1,772.2, 5th), and strikeouts (1,214, 4th). Viola was named an American League All-Star in 1988, and was selected along with Jim Kaat as lefthanded pitchers on the Twins' 40th Season Anniversary All-Time Team in 2000.

Minnesota Twins In The Hall Of Fame

With the 2004 induction of Paul Molitor, a total of six players with ties to the Minnesota Twins organization have earned election to the National Baseball Hall of Fame. Molitor joins Rod Carew (1967-1978), Steve Carlton (1987-1988), Harmon Killebrew (1961-1974) Kirby Puckett (1984-1995) and Dave Winfield (1993-1994) as former Twins to earn enshrinement in the Hall of Fame. For more information on Minnesota Twins in the Hall of Fame, visit the Hall of Famers team pages at www.baseballhalloffame.org.

Notable Twins Artifacts at the Hall of Fame

- Bat used by Matthew LeCroy to hit three consecutive pinch-hit home runs and tied a Major League record in 2004.
- Glove used by center fielder Torii Hunter during the 2004 season.
- Ball from Eric Milton's no-hitter, September 11, 1999.
- Spikes worn by Paul Molitor when he collected his 3,000th career hit, September 16, 1996.
- Jersey worn by Kent Hrbek during the 1993 season.
- Wheaties box commemorating the 1991 World Series champion Minnesota Twins.
- Bat used by Hall of Fame outfielder Kirby Puckett to go 6-for-6, giving him 10 straight hits, an American League record, August 30, 1987.
- Program and tickets from first game played in the Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome, April 6, 1982 vs. the Seattle Mariners.
- Batting gloves used by Hall of Famer and seven-time batting champion Rod Carew.
- 1964 Twins uniform worn by Hall of Famer Harmon Killebrew.

A Look Ahead to 2007

Ballots for the 2007 Hall of Fame/BBWAA election will be distributed in early December with results from the voting scheduled to be announced on January 9, 2007. A partial list of first-year candidates for election include: Harold Baines, Bobby Bonilla, Jose Canseco, Eric Davis, Tony Gwynn, Mark McGwire, Paul O'Neill, Cal Ripken Jr. and Bret Saberhagen. MINNESOTA BASEBALL HISTORY

By Stew Thornley

1884 Minneapolis Team

The roots of baseball in Minnesota are part of the post-Civil War baseball boom in America. The area's earliest teams were amateur nines, representing cities of all sizes throughout the state, a few of them even organized before the Civil War.

Professionalism crept into Minnesota baseball through the 1870s. In 1884, a fully professional minor league, the Northwestern League, had teams in Minneapolis, St. Paul, Stillwater, and Winona.. Most of the clubs were on shaky financial ground and disbanded during the season. Eventually, only St. Paul and Milwaukee remained. The two survivors finished their seasons by transferring to the Union Association, a major league that was in its only season of operation. By playing nine games in the Union Association, all on the road, St. Paul ended up with the distinction of being Minnesota's first major league team.

Minnesota was without professional baseball in 1885, but Minneapolis and St. Paul came back with teams in various leagues over the next decade, and both were a key part of the Western League in the 1890s, an organization that had some lofty aims. The league's creator, a Cincinnati sportswriter named Ban Johnson, hoped to eventually transform the Western League into a major league to challenge the established National League.

The Minneapolis Millers then played in a tiny downtown ballpark called Athletic Park, which was so small was that the Millers produced some impressive offensive numbers while playing there. The team's slugger, Perry "Moose" Werden, hit 42 home runs in 1894 and topped that with 45 the following year, establishing a professional single-season home run record that stood until Babe Ruth took up the business. The Millers won the city's first professional baseball championship when they captured the Western League flag in 1896, a season that also marked the end of Athletic Park and the beginning of Nicollet Park, a structure that seemed spacious in contrast to its predecessor but one that would eventually also be considered a great park for hitters.

Meanwhile, St. Paul got a team in the Western League when Charles Comiskey, a confidant and close friend at the time with Ban Johnson, purchased the Western League's Sioux City franchise and moved it to St. Paul for the 1895 season. Comiskey owned and managed the Saints, who played in a small ballpark off of University Avenue and Dale Street before moving two miles west to Lexington Park in 1897. Three years later, Comiskey moved the team again, this time taking it to Chicago, where it became (and still exists as) the White Sox.

Nicollet Park

The Millers lasted a year longer than the Saints but were among four teams dropped from the league when Johnson finally reached his goal, turning the Western League (by this time renamed the American League) into a major league in 1901.

Both the Minneapolis Millers and St. Paul Saints became charter members in a new minor league, the American Association, that began in 1902. Managed by Mike Kelley, who also played first base in an infield that included future Hall-of-Famer Miller Huggins at second, St. Paul got off to a good start, winning pennants in two of its first three years in the Association.

The Millers had a rockier beginning in the Association, finishing seventh (out of eight teams) their first two years. But the Minneapolis club came alive in 1910. Under a new manager, Pongo Joe Cantillon, the Millers rattled off three consecutive American Association championships.

Minneapolis and St. Paul played in the American Association for 59 seasons. The Millers ended up with the best winning percentage of all the teams to play in the league over that period. The Saints had the second-best record. In addition, the Minnesota teams shared the Association record with nine pennants apiece.

St. Paul Saints circa 1905

The 1920 championship for St. Paul was especially notable. Led by the pitching of 27-game winner Charley "Sea Lion" Hall and the offensive contributions of players like Joe "Goldie" Rapp, Lee Dressen, and Joe Riggert, the Saints won 115 games and produced a winning percentage of .701, Association records that were never matched. Unfortunately, the Saints lost that year to the Baltimore Orioles in the Junior World Series, a post-season matchup of the champions of the American Association and International League that had been played off and on since 1904.

Minneapolis made its first appearance in the Junior World Series in 1932. Mike Kelley, who had been with the Saints when the Association began, by this time owned the Millers. Kelley is remembered for his "retooling factory"—buying aging major leaguers, then selling them back to the majors after they had padded their averages in cozy Nicollet Park. But he also proved to be a shrewd judge of young talent. Kelley assembled a fencecracking crew of greenhorns and veterans, along with an ancient but crafty pitching staff, that won three Association championships in the 1930s.

The Millers lost the 1932 Junior World Series to the Newark Bears, a powerful farm club of the New York Yankees, but they won pennants again in 1934 and 1935. The leader of the Millers was Joe "Unser Choe" Hauser, a strong lefthanded hitter who took advantage of the short distance down the right-field foul line at Nicollet Park. In five seasons in Minneapolis, Hauser connected for 202 home runs, an average of better than 40 a year. Hauser was at his best in 1933, when he blasted 69 home runs, setting a professional record. Three years before, Hauser had hit 63 home runs with Baltimore in the International League and was the only player in organized baseball history to twice hit more than 60 in a season until Mark McGwire and Sammy Sosa matched the feat in the late 1990s.

While the Millers and Saints each won many Association titles, they battled for the league championship only once, in 1915 with the Millers coming out on top by a game-and-a-half. But no matter where the teams were in the standings, the Millers and Saints ignited the passions of the local partisans with their 22 inter-city games every year.

Lexington Park

Interest peaked each season with the holiday doubleheaders at Lexington Park in St. Paul and Nicollet Park in Minneapolis; a morning game at one park followed by a streetcar ride across the river for the afternoon game in the other was the Twin Cities' primary entertainment on Decoration Day, the Fourth of July, and Labor Day.

Ab Wright of the Millers saved his biggest 1940 fireworks for the morning game on Independence Day. En route to winning the American Association Triple Crown that season, Wright belted four home runs and a triple against the Saints for 19 total bases, a league record never equaled.

And the explosions heard on the Fourth of July in 1929 were from a Nicollet Park brawl between the rivals, described by one writer as "the most vicious affair ever witnessed at Nicollet" and one that "required fully a dozen policemen to quell the disturbance." Millers reserve infielder Sammy Bohne came out of the coaching box to land some of the hardest punches, and the next day the headline over Halsey Hall's story in the Minneapolis Journal read, "Sammy Bohne Doesn't Play, But Gets More Hits Than Those Who Do."

Hostilities even extended into the stands at times. In 1959 Minneapolis manager Gene Mauch scaled the railing at Midway Stadium in St. Paul to confront a fan whose remarks Mauch deemed "a bit too personal." In 1911, Millers' skipper Joe Cantillon took a bat with him to silence a heckler in the box seats at Lexington Park.

Minneapolis and St. Paul professional teams had their share of great players. Sixteen members of the Baseball Hall of Fame once played for and/or managed Minneapolis while St. Paul had five players and one manager who are now enshrined in Cooperstown.

St. Paul's list of Hall of Famers includes Miller Huggins, Lefty Gomez, Walter Alston, Duke Snider, and Roy Campanella, who became the first black player in the American Association in 1948.

For Minneapolis, the honor roll includes Rube Waddell, one of the top southpaws in baseball in the first part of the 20th century, who pitched for the Millers in the American Association in 1911 and 1912 (as well as briefly in 1913 for the Minneapolis team in the Northern League in 1913). Another Minneapolis great was Ted Williams, who became the first player to win the American Association triple crown in 1938 before going on to his Hall of Fame career with the Red Sox. The man who replaced Williams in the Boston outfield 22 years later, Carl Yastrzemski, also made Minneapolis his last stop in the minors en route to the Red Sox.

In 1951, the Millers had three players who are now in the Hall of Fame—Hoyt Wilhelm, Ray Dandridge, and Willie Mays. Wilhelm pitched two seasons for Minneapolis, and Dandridge—the Millers' first black player—played with the team from 1949 to 1952 and was the Association's Most Valuable Player in 1950. For Mays, though, the stay in Minneapolis was brief. The Millers' new centerfielder was hitting .477 and tearing up the American Association in early 1951 when he was sudden taken away, called up to the New York Giants after only 35 games with the Millers.

1950 Minneapolis Millers

New York had purchased the Millers—the last of the independently owned teams in the Association—from Mike Kelley in 1946. By this time, the Saints were a farm team of the Brooklyn Dodgers. The parent clubs gave a Big Apple flavor to the Minneapolis-St. Paul rivalry, but it also marked a turning point in the operation of the Twin Cities' minor league teams. In the past, players were locally controlled and often returned to the same team year after year, affording fans an opportunity to build a strong sense of loyalty and identification with the players. Better than any other event, the abrupt departure of Mays in May of 1951 signaled this change in how minor league teams were operated.

The Millers and Saints carried on for several more years. St. Paul didn't win any more pennants, but Minneapolis had a big season in 1955 when it won the American Association pennant and went on to win its first Junior Series championship, beating the Rochester Red Wings, 4 games to 3. Al Worthington, later a mainstay in the Minnesota Twins bullpen, won three games in the Junior World Series and also saved the seventh and decisive contest, a game which also marked the end of 60-year-old Nicollet Park.

1960 Minneapolis Millers

The Millers, playing in Metropolitan Stadium in suburban Bloomington, ended up in two more Junior Series, both under the leadership of player-manager Gene Mauch. In 1958, Minneapolis swept the Montreal Royals. The following year, the Millers lost in seven games to the Havana Sugar Kings in a series that was tense not just because of the closeness of the games but also because of the political atmosphere. The final five games were played in Havana, and new Cuban premier Fidel Castro was on hand for all of them.

The end for the Millers and Saints came after the 1960 season. That October, Calvin Griffith announced he was moving his Washington Senators to Minnesota, where they would become the Twins. A new era of major league baseball was about to begin, and a rich tradition of minor league ball on its way out.

During this period, the Millers and Saints were not the only teams providing outstanding baseball to Minnesotans. Another professional organization, the Northern League, had a number of Minnesota teams in its ranks before finally folding in 1971. Through the years, 14 Minnesota cities were represented in the leagueincluding the St. Cloud Rox, Duluth Dukes, Crookston Pirates, and Fargo-Moorhead Twins. In 1913 Minneapolis and St. Paul even had franchises in the league at the same time that each city had a team in the American Association. The Northern League produced its share of stars who went on to greatness in the majors, including Lou Brock, Hank Aaron, Gaylord Perry, Jim Palmer, Orlando Cepeda, Jim Perry, Vada Pinson, Joe Torre, Matty Alou, and Roger Maris.

One of the best-remembered incidents in Northern League history is an unfortunate event that occurred off the field. In July of 1948, while on its way from Eau Claire to St. Cloud, the Duluth Dukes team bus was involved in a crash that killed five team members and injured 13 others. The bus collided with a truck on Highway 36 north of St. Paul. Duluth manager George Treadwell—who was driving the bus—was killed, as was the truck driver. Among the players injured was Elmer "Red" Schoendienst, brother of the St. Louis Cardinals' Red Schoendienst. The Dukes were able to continue as their roster was stocked with new players from the Cardinals organization (the Dukes had a working agreement with St. Louis) and from other organized baseball teams.

Another pro team was the Minneapolis Millerettes, who played in 1944 in the All-American Girls Professional Baseball League, which became the subject of the 1992 movie A League of Their Own.

1944 Minneapolis Millerettes

The Millerettes were led by right-fielder Helen Callaghan, who hit .287 with three home runs in 111 games. Baseball ran in the Callaghan family. Callaghan's sister, Margaret, was also a star in the league, and Helen's son, Casey Candaele, later played with the Montreal Expos, Houston Astros, and Cleveland Indians.

Callaghan wasn't the only Millerette with a relative in the major leagues. The Minneapolis pitching rotation included Annabelle Lee, the aunt of Bill "Spaceman" Lee, who pitched with the Expos and Boston Red Sox in the 1970s and 1980s. In fact, Lee credits his aunt with teaching him how to pitch.

The Millerettes played respectable baseball in the season's early weeks, but a slump that followed dropped them to the cellar, where they stayed, and they closed out the first half of the season with a dismal record of 23-36. Things didn't get any better in the second half. Few fans were turning out to Nicollet Park to see the Millerettes, and the other teams began complaining of the long road trips to Minneapolis to play before such small crowds. As a result, in late July the remainder of the Millerettes' home games were switched to other cities and the team, which became known as the Orphans, was forced to play the rest of the season on the road. The team moved to Fort Wayne for the 1945 season.

St. Paul Colored Gophers

No official Negro League teams ever represented a Minnesota city, but the state did have some all-black teams in the early part of the century, the most notable being the St. Paul Gophers and Minneapolis Keystones. Bobby Marshall—who had competed in baseball, track, and football at the University of Minnesota—played for both the Keystones and Gophers. Marshall was a key member of the 1909 St. Paul Gophers team that defeated the Chicago Leland Giants for the unofficial championship of Negro baseball. The Leland Giants were led by Andrew "Rube" Foster, the great pitcher who later founded the organized Negro Leagues. Although he pitched against the Gophers in the 1909 championship series, Foster also pitched for the Gophers on several occasions. Foster was brought in—essentially as a "ringer," according to local historian Fred Buckland—to pitch for the Gophers in key games over the years.

Semi-professional leagues also provided great entertainment for some smaller towns. The Southern Minnesota League was often considered to be as strong as most Single-A professional leagues and even as strong as some Double-A leagues.

The "Southern Minny" lasted from 1912 until the early sixties, playing games on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Sundays from May through September of each year. Over thirty cities covering southern Minnesota and northern Iowa were represented in the league. Teams included the Mankato Merchants, Faribault Lakers, Winona Chiefs, Austin Packers, Owatonna Aces, and Fairmont Martins.

Bill "Moose" Skowron played for Austin in 1950. He intended to return that to Purdue University, where he played football and baseball. But Skowron did so well with the Packers that he was scouted and signed by the New York Yankees. He went on to hit 211 home runs in 14 major league seasons and played in seven World Series.

Johnny Blanchard and Howie Schultz—stars from Minneapolis and St. Paul, respectively—also played in the Southern Minny and had credible major league careers. Another major leaguer who made a stop in the Southern Minny was Sam Jones, who pitched for Rochester and threw two no-hitters in 1949, including one in the playoffs. Five years later, "Toothpick" Sam became the first black to hurl a no-hitter in the major-leagues.

Minnesota semi-professional leagues even provided haven for exiles. Swede Risberg had been banned from organized baseball for his part in the 1919 Black Sox scandal, but he found a home with the Rochester Royals in the 1920s.

Amateur baseball remains a proud tradition in many small towns in Minnesota to this day. In addition, the Minnesota Gophers continue to produce strong teams year after year. Under legendary coach Dick Siebert, who led the Gophers from 1948 to 1978, the Gophers won three national championships in 1956, 1960, and 1964.

But since 1961, the baseball spotlight in Minnesota has focused mainly on the major league game. Minnesotans were excited about the arrival of the Twins, even though the team, through most of its years in Washington, had not been a great one. But there were stars to get excited about, such as pitchers Camilo Pascual and Jim Kaat and the fearsome batting tandem of Bob Allison and Harmon Killebrew. With the Senators, Allison had been the American League's Rookie of the Year in 1959. That same season, Killebrew hit 42 home runs.

Allison, Ermer, Killebrew and Kaat

The Killer connected for 46 home runs in 1961, and topped those totals in the ensuing years. Playing in Met Stadium, the Twins won only 70 games and lost 90 in their first season in Minnesota, but they quickly moved up in the standings. With Sam Mele as manager, the Twins finished second to the mighty New York Yankees in 1962. Killebrew led the league with 48 home runs, but the highlight of the season came on Sunday, August 26 when southpaw Jack Kralick pitched a no-hitter against the Kansas City Athletics, coming within two outs of a perfect game

Harmon Killebrew

The Twins had another good year in 1963, but it was followed by a setback the following season. Harmon Killebrew hit 49 home runs in 1964, and Tony Oliva led the American League in batting average and was named the league's Rookie of the Year. However, the Twins dropped to a tie for sixth place. It was disappointing, but the team bounced back.

The world came to Minnesota in 1965. The Twins hosted the All-Star Game in July and an even bigger event in October as they ended the long dynasty of the New York Yankees by winning the American League pennant.

Although Killebrew's home run total dropped to 25 as a result of an injury that caused him to miss several weeks, others picked up the slack that season. Jim "Mudcat" Grant won 21 games, Tony Oliva won the batting title again, and shortstop Zoilo Versalles—who hit .273 with 19 home runs out of the leadoff spot—was named the American League Most Valuable Player.

Oliva and Versalles

Metropolitan Stadium

The Twins' opponents in the World Series were the Los Angeles Dodgers, who had a superb pitching staff, led by Don Drysdale and Sandy Koufax. But the Twins surprised the Dodgers by defeating Drysdale and then Koufax in the first two games of the series. The Dodgers came back with three wins in a row. In the sixth game, Mudcat Grant kept the Twins alive. He pitched a six-hitter and also hit a three-run homer, leading the Twins to a 5-1 win and forcing a seventh game. However, Sandy Koufax was too much for Minnesota in the finale. He pitched a three-hit shutout and beat the Twins, 2-0, to win the World Series for Los Angeles.

The Twins finished second the next year and then found themselves in a tremendous pennant race in 1967, along with the Chicago White Sox, Detroit Tigers, and Boston Red Sox. Dean Chance, a 20-game winner that season, added to the excitement in August. At Metropolitan Stadium on August 6, Chance pitched a rain-shortened, five-inning perfect game against Boston. Three weeks later, he pitched another no-hitter, against Cleveland.

Detroit, Minnesota, and Boston battled down to the final weekend, and the Twins finished the regular-season with a two-game in Boston. One win would eliminate the Red Sox and two would clinch at least a tie with Detroit, if not the pennant. However, Boston won both games and it was the Red Sox, not the Twins, who went to the World Series.

After a seventh-place finish in 1968, the Twins were primed for a good year in 1969. Both leagues had expanded to 12 teams and were split into divisions. The Twins had a new manager, Billy Martin, and the team exemplified their skipper's fiery nature on the field. Cesar Tovar set a team record with 45 stolen bases while Rod Carew stole 19, including seven steals of home, and also won the batting title with a .332 average. Tony Oliva had a great season, knocking in more than 100 runs for the first time in his career. On the mound, Jim Perry and Dave Boswell both won 20 games. But the season belonged to Harmon Killebrew, who hit 49 home runs and drove in 140, leading the majors in both categories. Killebrew was named the American League Most Valuable Player.

The Twins were good, but they went up against an even better team, the Baltimore Orioles, in the American League playoffs. The Orioles swept the playoff series to eliminate the Twins.

The Twins fired Billy Martin as manager after the 1969 season even though Martin had led the team to first place in the Western Division. Bill Rigney was the new manager, and the Twins won the West again in 1970. Killebrew had another big year, homering 41 times. Jim Perry won 24 games to become the first Minnesota pitcher to win the Cy Young Award. Rookie Bert Blyleven, still a teenager, came up from the minors and won 10 games. But once again, the Twins couldn't handle Baltimore in the playoffs and were swept for the second straight year.

Tony Oliva

The first decade of the Twins had some great moments, but the next decade was more challenging.

Tony Oliva won his third batting title in 1971, but he suffered a serious knee injury during the year and was never the same player again. In August of 1971, Killebrew hit the 500th home run of his career. He finished the season with 119 runs batted in (RBIs), but his home run total dropped to 28. As a team, the Twins dropped even more. They finished in fifth place, 25½ games out of first. For the first time in Minnesota, the Twins did not top the million mark in attendance.

It was the beginning of a dry spell for the Twins. They still had some fine players, especially Rod Carew, who began a string of four straight batting titles starting in 1972. However, the team still had trouble winning more games than it lost during those years.

Under a new manager, Gene Mauch, in 1976, the Twins rose to third place and finished just five games out of first. This set the stage for an exciting year in 1977, one that brought the fans swarming back to Met Stadium. With a powerful batch of hitters, the team was known as the "Lumber Company." Larry Hisle led the American League in runs batted in, Lyman Bostock hit .336 and scored 104 runs, and Glenn Adams did some heavy hitting that included setting a Twins record by driving in eight runs in a game in late June.

However, Adams was upstaged by Rod Carew in that game, one of the most memorable in Twins history. A crowd of more than 46,000 filled Met Stadium to see the Twins battle the Chicago White Sox for the top spot in the Western Division. Carew scored five runs and drove in six as the Twins outslugged Chicago, 19-12, to move past the Sox into first place. Carew also had four hits and raised his average to .403 for the season.

Rod Carew

Carew kept his average up for most of the year. He made a run at becoming the first player since Ted Williams in 1941 to hit .400 in a season. Carew didn't make it, but he finished with a batting average of .388, the best in the majors in 20 years.

On the mound, Dave Goltz, a strong righthander and a Minnesota native, won 20 games. Another Minnesota-born pitcher, Tom Johnson, won 16, all in relief. The excitement was back at the Met, and the Twins drew more than a million fans for the first time since 1970. The team stayed in the pennant hunt before tailing off in the final month of the season.

Even more disturbing than the late swoon was the prospect of the Twins losing some of their stars.

The era of free agency had arrived, and Calvin Griffith didn't have enough money to compete with other owners in the open market.

Hisle and Bostock, two of the team's big guns, signed with other teams for the 1978 season. Without them, the offense sputtered. Rod Carew won his seventh American League batting title in 1978, but it looked like he might be on his way out, too. Rather than risk losing him to free agency, Griffith traded Carew to the California Angels before the 1979 season. The Lumber Company had been dismantled.

The Twins still fought hard in 1979 and stayed in the race for the West Division title until the final week of the season. After that, they dropped back again and played before small crowds in the final two years of Met Stadium.

Kent Hrbek

While the team floundered in 1980 and 1981, a new domed stadium was being built on the edge of downtown Minneapolis. And, even though the 1981 season was largely a dismal one, some newcomers provided a boost near the end of the year.

Kent Hrbek, who grew up close to Met Stadium, joined the team in August. He played in his first game at Yankee Stadium and won it for the Twins with a home run in the 12th inning. Over the next month, two more players broke in with a bang. Tim Laudner and Gary Gaetti both homered in their first games.

The end of an era came on a drizzly afternoon on the final day of September. The Twins lost to the Kansas City Royals in the final baseball game for Met Stadium.

The Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome opened in downtown Minneapolis in 1982. The first game—an exhibition contest—took place on a cold Saturday night in early April. Kent Hrbek hit the first two home runs in the new stadium. A few days later, Dave Engle hit the Metrodome's first regular-season home run as the Twins opened with a loss to the Seattle Mariners.

The Minnesota lineup was loaded with young players, with Kent Hrbek leading the way. He had a 23-game hitting streak that extended into May. That same month, the Twins acquired a young slugger, Tom Brunansky, in a trade. Gaetti and Laudner also contributed, along with a new pitcher, Frank Viola.

Another star emerged in 1984. Kirby Puckett joined the Twins in May and got four hits in his first game. Puckett immediately became a fan favorite with his hustle and enthusiastic style of play.

Carl Pohlad and Calvin Griffith

The 1984 season was also marked by a change in ownership. Carl Pohlad purchased the team from Calvin Griffith. Soon after that, the Twins caught fire and moved to the top of the West Division standings. They were still in first place with only a week left in the season, but they lost their final six games and finished in a tie for second place.

A couple of disappointing years followed, but the Twins put together an unforgettable season in 1987.

Tom Kelly was in his first full season as manager. Other new faces included relief ace Jeff Reardon and hardnosed outfielder Dan Gladden. Stalwarts like Hrbek, Puckett, Gaetti, and Brunansky joined the newcomers in helping the Twins to the top in 1987.

The Twins won the West Division and then upset the Detroit Tigers in the League Championship Series, winning in five games. The Twins were underdogs again in the World Series, but they pulled off another upset, defeating the St. Louis Cardinals, 4 games to 3, to win their first world championship in baseball. In doing so, the Twins became the state's first major league team to win an overall championship since the Minneapolis Lakers in 1954.

Frank Viola

Minnesota didn't repeat in 1988, but they did have the American League's best pitcher in Frank Viola, who won 24 games and received the Cy Young Award.

The Twins dropped to last place in 1990 but came back with another big season. After a slow start in 1991, the Twins put together a 15-game winning streak that put them into first place in June. Scott Erickson won 20 games, including 12 in a row, and St. Paul native Jack Morris—in his only season with the Twins—added 18. Chuck Knoblauch played a steady second base and was named Rookie of the Year.

The Twins won the West Division by eight games and defeated the Toronto Blue Jays in the playoffs to advance to the World Series against the Atlanta Braves, another team that had finished last the previous year. It was one of the most memorable World Series ever, with three games—including the final two—being decided in extra innings.

The Twins were down, 3 games to 2, as they played Game 6 at the Metrodome. Kirby Puckett provided the heroics in this one. In the third, he leaped high against the fence in left-center to rob Ron Gant of an extra-base hit and snuff an Atlanta rally. Then, in the last of the 11th, Puckett led off with a home run to left-center to win the game for the Twins.

The final game was just as exciting. Jack Morris was magnificent, but Atlanta righthander John Smoltz of the Braves was just as sharp. Neither team could score, and the game was scoreless as it went into extra innings, with Morris still on the mound for the Twins. Morris put down the Braves in the top of the 10th, and the Twins were finally able to bring across a run in the bottom of the inning. Gene Larkin's one-out single beyond a pulled-in outfield brought home Dan Gladden with the winning tally and gave the Twins their second World Series victory in five seasons.

1991 World Series

The Twins finished second to the Oakland Athletics in the West Division in 1992, and then hit another period of hard times. While the team struggled through the rest of the 1990s, it still provided many highlights with the focus on individual performance.

Dave Winfield, who grew up playing baseball on the sandlots of St. Paul, came to the Twins in 1993 after many good years with San Diego, the New York Yankees, and California. In September of that season, Winfield got the 3,000th hit of his career. Eight years later, Winfield became the only Minnesota-born player besides Charles "Chief" Bender to be elected to the Baseball Hall of Fame.

Paul Molitor

In 1996, another St. Paul native, Paul Molitor, came home to Minnesota to finish out his career. He also got his 3,000th hit while playing for the Twins.

In between those milestones, another Twins achieved personal glory. In April of 1994, Scott Erickson pitched a no-hitter against Milwaukee. It was the first no-hitter in the history of the Metrodome, and the first for a Twins pitcher since 1967.

Puckett and Winfield

Among the highlights, though, was a sad event. An eye disease, glaucoma, brought a premature end to the career of Kirby Puckett in 1996. In 2001, Puckett—along with his former teammate, Dave Winfield—was elected to the Hall of Fame in his first year of eligibility.

There were other problems. Just as Calvin Griffith had been plagued by rising salaries in the 1970s, the Twins were by this time finding it difficult to compete for top players with some of the richer teams in the major leagues. Even so, the team developed a number of fine young players, such as Brad Radke. In 1997, the righthander won 20 games for Minnesota, including a stretch in which he won 12 consecutive starts.

The emphasis remained on young players over the next few years. One of them, Eric Milton, topped off the 1990s with a no-hitter against the Anaheim Angels in September of 1999. Other young players, like Doug Mientkiewicz, Cristian Guzman, Corey Koskie, Torii Hunter, Joe Mays, and Jacque Jones, stepped up in the coming years, and the results were soon seen.

Doug Mientkiewicz

The Twins got off to a great start in 2001, winning 14 of their first 17 games. They kept up the hot play, thanks to the hitting and fielding of Mientkiewicz and the pitching of Radke, Milton, and Mays, who gave the team some of the best starting pitching in the majors.

The Twins were in first place by five games at the All-Star break. However, injuries to key players like Guzman and Radke, slowed them down over the second half. The Twins still finished with 85 wins and in second place.

Minnesota dealt with even more challenges the next year. The threat of contraction made players and fans, as well as new manager Ron Gardenhire, wonder if there would even be a 2002 season for them. The Twins survived but they had to deal with significant injuries again. However, this time there was no stopping the Twins. Torii Hunter connected for 29 home runs and for the second straight year won a Gold Glove in center field. His most spectacular catch of the year came on a national stage, as he robbed Barry Bonds of a home run in the All-Star Game.

2002 Minnesota Twins

The Twins won 94 games but were underdogs in the opening round of the playoffs as they faced the Oakland Athletics, which had won 103 games. Oakland won two of the first three games, but the Twins won the next two to capture the series and advance to the American League Championship Series. The Twins won the first game but then dropped the next four and were eliminated by the Anaheim Angels, the team that went on to win the World Series.

The Twins made it two straight division titles in 2003, although there were times over the first half of the season when it didn't appear this would happen. In addition to the Chicago White Sox, the team expected to contend with the Twins, a young Kansas City team played well. The Twins started slowly, dropped as far as eight games out of first in April, battled back, but found themselves 7½ games out of first at the All-Star break. However, Shannon Stewart, acquired in a trade with Toronto, provided the offense with a spark over the last half of the season. Combined with stronger performances from the starting pitchers, Minnesota once again whittled away at the leaders. The comeback in the standings was completed after a strange come-from-behind win on September 3. Down 5-4 with two out and one on in the ninth against Anaheim, Stewart grounded a double to left. Dustan Mohr tried to score from first but the relay to the plate was well ahead of him. However, Mohr crashed into catcher Bengie Molina, knocking the ball loose, and scored the tying run. As the ball rolled up the first-base line, Stewart also came home to win the game. That night, the White Sox lost, and the Twins were tied for first.

2003 Division Series Game One

The Twins and White Sox remained tied as they split a four-game series in Chicago the following week. By the time the two teams met again, at the Metrodome, the Twins had a half-game lead, one they stretched to three-and-a-half games by sweeping the White Sox at home. Less than a week later, Minnesota clinched the Central Division title. In the opening round of the playoffs, the Twins won the first game, in New York, but then dropped the next three to the Yankees.

General manager Terry Ryan's program of building a strong minor-league system and a winning team at the major league level had paid off, opening the door to the next step of replenishing veterans and keeping the winning team together. Toward that end, Minnesota fans look ahead to the emergence of catcher Joe Mauer, who was the first player taken in the 2001 draft, and others in the coming years.

Unfortunately, Mauer hurt his knee in the second game of the 2004 season and played only 35 games that year. However, other young players and newcomers made contributions. Joe Nathan, acquired in a trade with San Francisco, took over the closer role and saved 44 games while producing an earned-run average of 1.62. Justin Morneau became the team's regular first baseman and had 19 home runs in just 74 games.

Johan Santana

The biggest story of the 2004 season was the emergence of lefthander Johan Santana, who was unbeatable over the final half of the season. Santana won his final 13 decisions to finish with a won-lost record of 20-6 and an ERA of 2.61. Named American League Pitcher of the Month in July, August, and September, Santana led the league with 265 strikeouts while walking only 54 batters in 228 innings. Following the season, he was unanimously selected as the recipient of the Cy Young Award in the American League. Santana became the first Twins pitcher since Camilo Pascual in 1963 to lead the league in strikeouts and only the third pitcher in Twins history to win the Cy Young Award.

The Twins won the Central Division title for the third straight year, and, for the second year in a row, faced the New York Yankees in the opening round of the playoffs. Santana pitched seven scoreless innings as Minnesota won the first game, 2-0. The Twins were on the verge of taking a two-game lead in the series as Torii Hunter put them ahead with a 12th-inning home run in the second game. However, Nathan, pitching his third inning of the game, was ineffective in the bottom of the inning as the Yankees scored twice to win the game. In the third game, in Minnesota, the Yankees won, 8-4, but the Twins, with Santana back on the mound, looked like they would win the fourth game and force a decisive fifth game back in New York. The Twins had a 5-1 lead after seven innings. The Yankees rallied in the eighth of Juan Rincon and had one run in with one out and two runners on base. Ruben Sierra then delivered the big blow for New York, a three-run homer to tie the game. In the top of the 11th, Alex Rodriguez doubled, stole third, and then scored the go-ahead run on a wild pitch, and the Yankees won the game, 6-5, and the series, three-games-to-one.

2005 Minnesota Twins

In 2005, the Twins played well during the early part of the season. Unfortunately, the Chicago White Sox were playing even better. Chicago was the hottest team in baseball, but the Twins remained within striking distance through mid-June. The Twins finished the season in third place, behind Chicago and Cleveland, but they still had a winning record for the fifth straight year.

Johan Santana was outstanding again, leading the major leagues in strikeouts and finishing third in the balloting for the American League Cy Young Award.

FRANCHISE RECORDS (1901-2005)

The history of the Minnesota Twins franchise dates back to the year 1901, when as the Washington Senators, they were born as one of the eight original franchises in the American League. For sixty years, the Senators played baseball in our nation's capital, winning one World's Championship and three American League pennants, while adding Hall of Fame players like Walter Johnson, Sam Rice and Goose Goslin to the rich history of America's game.

In 1961, owner Calvin Griffith moved the Senators from Washington, DC to Minnesota where a new chapter has been written, one more impressive than the first. In the 45 years since, the Minnesota Twins have won two World's Championships, three American League pennants, and made eight playoff appearances. It is here that names like Killebrew, Kaat, Carew, Blyleven, Hrbek, and Puckett have been able to weave their own names into history, not only for the franchise, but for the game.

The records and All-Time Top Ten Lists below recognize this history by including the statistics of the Washington Senators of 1901-1960, as their history is our history, and any franchise history without them would be incomplete.

MINNESOTA TWINS MEDIA POLICIES

CREDENTIALS

Credentials for accredited news media are available upon request and may be sent in care of Minnesota Twins Media Relations Department, 34 Kirby Puckett Place, Minneapolis, MN 55415. Credentials may also be requested by phone (612) 375-7471, or by FAX (612) 375-7473, but the request must be made no later than six hours prior to game time. Credentials may be picked up at the VIP Pick-Up window two hours before the start of the game or in the Media Relations department before that. The VIP Pick-Up window window is located on Kirby Puckett Place, adjacent to the Twins' ticket windows. Daily and season credentials will be issued only to working members of the media and must be displayed at all times while in the Metrodome. After picking up credentials at the Will Call window, media must enter through Gate F, located on the corner of Kirby Puckett Place and Fifth St. The press box is located on street level directly across from Gate F. A photo ID and signature are required to pick up credentials.

PRESS TICKETS

A limited number of media tickets are available, in front and above the press box and down the lines, for sports and news personnel on a first-come, first-served basis and must be requested no later than 2:30 p.m. for night games, 5:00 p.m. of the preceeding day for day games and 5:00 p.m. on Friday for weekend games. After those times, no further requests will be accepted. We ask that each request be limited to two (2) tickets and those requesting must pay by a credit card ($41 apiece for lower club and $18 apiece for upper club). All tickets will be placed at the VIP Pick-Up window the day of the game no earlier than 1 1/2 hours before game time. No tickets will be mailed out in advance.

INTERVIEWS

Most interviews may be conducted on the field during batting practice where the manager, players and coaches are usually available, as long as the interview does not interrupt their pre-game routine. Members of the media must stay in foul territory between first and third base. In-depth interviews that require more time with a player should be pre-arranged through the Media Relations department. Reporters and broadcasters must leave the field, with photographers reporting to their assigned photo positions, no later than one-half hour before game time.

CLUBHOUSE ACCESS

The Twins' clubhouse will be open to media with clubhouse credentials until 45 minutes prior to and after no longer than 10 minutes following each game. All live television broadcast shots must be conducted outside the clubhouse. Television photographers are allowed in the clubhouse after games, but not prior to games. Still photographers are not allowed in the clubhouse at any time. On occasion of a team meeting, the clubhouse will be closed until the conclusion of the meeting. The training room and weight room are off-limits to everyone except the manager, coaches, players and Twins' officials. The dugout is off limits during the game for everyone except the manager, coaches, players, trainers and certain club officials, in accordance with American League rules.

PRESS BOX

Space is available for accredited members of the media on assignment only. The lower level is reserved for writers and broadcast reporters, while the upper level is divided into broadcast booths for live coverage by radio and television networks. Phones and wireless internet are available. To reach the Media Relations office and the Twins' dining room, take the press box stairs down two flights to Lower Level 2 and take a right. Proceed past the Twins' clubhouse and enter through the double doors.

PRESS ROOM

The Twins' dining room, located on Lower Level 2 near the Media Relations office, is available for pre-game meals to media with appropriate credentials, for a $8 charge, approximately two hours prior to, and up until, game time. Complete note sets containing statistical information will be available in the dining room, as well as the press box.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

Due to a lack of on-field photo spots, the first and third base photo bays are limited to the two local papers, the two wire services and DomeVision cameras. Certain exceptions may be made depending on space availablity. An alternative for photographers are the two upper deck photo baskets. Photographers assigned to the on-field locations should remain in the photo bays at all times during the game. If necessary, photographers should leave between innings only. Photos are allowed during batting practice, but photographers must remain in foul territory, between first and third base. No photographs are to be taken from the baseball press box.

AUTOGRAPHS

Professional journalists do NOT ask for autographs. Any media members asking for autographs will have their credentials revoked.

PARKING

There is no on-site parking available at the Metrodome, but municipal ramps and parking lots are available near the stadium.

FOR MORE INFORMATION regarding policies or questions about interviews, photo requests, statistical information, credential requests, media ticket orders, news releases, etc., call (612) 375-7471.

THE METRODOME

- Opened on April 3, 1982, the Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome has been home to the Twins for the past 23 years. It was the third domed facility in baseball and remains the only air-supported structure among the 28 in use.
- The Metrodome is the only stadium in the world to play host to the World Series (1987 and 1991), baseball's All-Star Game (1985), the Super Bowl (XXVI, 1992) and the NCAA Final Four Basketball Tournament (1992 & 2001).
- Construction began on December 20, 1979 and was built by the state of Minnesota at a cost of approximately $68 million.
- Located on a 20 acre site in the Industry Square district of downtown Minneapolis, the stadium has an interior volume of 60 million cubic feet and is covered by 10 acres of Teflon coated fiberglass 1/32" thick. It is 195 feet from the highest point of the interior ceiling to the playing field.
- It takes 250,000 cubic feet of air pressure per minute to keep the roof inflated.
- The Metrodome includes 7,600 retractable seats in rightfield, the largest such section of any stadium in the world. It can be converted from baseball to football use, and vice versa, in four hours.
- An additional 900 seats were added prior to the '94 season by moving both dugouts closer to the field and adding three rows closer to field level. Section 113 in the right field corner was also added to increase total capacity for baseball to 45,423.
- A retractable curtain displaying the banners from the Twins' championship years was hung in right-center prior to the '96 season.
- A Plaza was added along Kirby Puckett Place on the west side of the Metrodome prior to the 1996 season and serves as a gathering spot for Twins fans before each home game. The area offers tents for groups of 100 to 1,000 and features a wide variety of food and beverage items.
- The pitcher's mound is powered by an electric motor and can be raised and lowered at the push of a button. The mound weighs 23,000 pounds and is 18 feet in diameter.
- In March of 2004, the Metrodome playing field was re-surfaced with AstroPlay, a new artificial turf that resembles natural grass.
- Field dimensions are 343' down the leftfield line, 385' to the leftfield power alley, 408' to dead centerfield, 367' to the rightfield power alley and 327' down the line in right. The fence in leftfield and centerfield is 7' high and the one in rightfield is 23' high, including 16' of plastic tarp installed in 1983. Leftfield had a 6' plexiglas extension from 1983-93, but it was removed prior to the '94 season.

IT HAPPENED IN THE DOME

- November 19, 1981: Roof deflated due to tear caused by heavy snow.
- December 30, 1982: Roof deflated due to tear caused by heavy snow.
- April 14, 1983: Roof deflated due to tear caused by heavy snow and the scheduled game with California was postponed. It is the only postponement in Metrodome history.
- May 4, 1984: Oakland's Dave Kingman hit ball into one of roof's drainage holes in a 4th inning at-bat. The ball never came down and Kingman was awarded a ground rule double.
- April 26, 1986: Roof suffered slight tear due to high winds, causing a nine minute delay in the bottom of the seventh inning vs. California.
- May 30, 1992: Detroit's Rob Deer popped out to shortstop Greg Gagne in consecutive at-bats with both balls richocheting off the ceiling.
- July 5, 1992: Minnesota's Chili Davis hit a towering fly ball to deep rightfield vs. Baltimore's Rick Sutcliffe. The ball bounced off a speaker in play and caromed to second baseman Mark McLemore, who made the catch in shallow right field to rob Davis of a sure home run.
- August 29, 1992: A power outage in the third inning caused a 23 minute delay vs. New York.
- August 5, 2001: A power outage in the area of Minneapolis surrounding the Metrodome caused the air conditioning to shut down, heating the inside of the dome during the game to a high temperature of 91 degrees, as the Twins fell to the Royals, 10-5.
- October 2, 2004: The Twins and Indians were forced to suspend their game after the 11th inning due to a curfew rule in effect for the University of Minnesota football game.

METRODOME GROUND RULES

- Foul poles are in fair territory.
- Ball hitting roof or speakers in fair territory; if caught by fielder, batter is out and base runners advance at their own risk.
- Ball hitting roof or speakers in fair territory shall be judged fair or foul in relation to where it hits the ground or is touched by a fielder.
- If a ball hits a speaker or the roof in foul territory, the ball is dead and cannot be caught.
- If a ball hits a speaker or the roof in foul territory and ricochets back into fair territory, the ball is dead and cannot be caught.

METRODOME SEATING INFORMATION

METRODOME FIRSTS

GAME: Tuesday, April 6, 1982 vs. Seattle (Seattle 11, Minnesota 7)
ATTENDANCE: 52,279
GAME TIME TEMP: 70 in/28 out
PITCHER: Pete Redfern, Minnesota
BATTER: Julio Cruz, Seattle (struck out)
TWINS BATTER: Jim Eisenreich (grounded out)
HIT: Solo home run by Dave Engle, Minnesota, 1st inning
RUN: Engle in 1st inning
SINGLE: Jim Maler, Seattle, 3rd inning
DOUBLE: Manny Castillo, Seattle, 3rd inning
TRIPLE: Gary Gaetti, Minnesota, 2nd inning
HOME RUN: Engle in 1st inning
GRAND-SLAM: Gary Ward, May 10, 1982 off Boston's Mike Torrez
RBI: Engle in 1st inning
WALK: Castillo in 5th inning
STRIKEOUT: Cruz in 1st inning
STOLEN BASE: Cruz in 5th inning
WINNING PITCHER: Floyd Bannister, Seattle
LOSING PITCHER: Pete Redfern, Minnesota
SAVE: Mike Stanton, Seattle
TWINS WIN: Wednesday, April 7, 1982 (Minnesota 7, Seattle 5)

MEDICAL GLOSSARY

The following glossary was provided by the Professional Baseball Athletic Trainers Society.

AC Joint: Acromioclavicular joint; joint of the shoulder where acromion process of the scapula and the distal end of the clavicle meet; most shoulder separations occur at this point.

Abscess: An infection which produces pus; can be the result of a blister, callus, penetrating wound or laceration.

Adhesion: Abnormal adherence of collagen fibers to surrounding structures during immobilization following trauma or as a complication of surgery which restricts normal elasticity of the structures involved.

Aerobic: Exercise in which energy needed is supplied by oxygen inspired and is required for sustained periods of vigorous exercise with a continually high pulse rate.

Anaerobic: Exercise without oxygen as an energy source; short bursts of vigorous exercise.

Anterior Compartment Syndrome: Condition in which swelling within the anterior compartment of the lower leg jeopardizes the viability of muscles, nerves and arteries that serve the foot. In severe cases, emergency surgery is necessary to relieve the swelling and pressure.

Anterior Cruciate Ligament (ACL): A primary stabilizing ligament within the center of the knee joint that prevents hyperextension and excessive rotation of the joint. A complete tear of the ACL necessitating reconstruction could require up to 12 month of rehabilitation.

Anterior Talofibular Ligament: A ligament of the ankle that connects the fibula (later ankle bone) to the talus. This ligament is oft times subject to sprain.

Anti-Inflammatory: Any agent which prevents inflammation, such as aspirin or ibuprofen.

Arteriogram: A film demonstrating arteries after injection of a dye.

Arthrogram: X-ray technique for joints using air and/or dye injected into the affected area; useful in diagnosing meniscus tears of the knee and rotator cuff tears of the shoulder.

Arthroscope: An instrument used to visualize the interior of a joint cavity.

Arthroscopy: A surgical examination of the internal structures of a joint by means of viewing through an arthroscope. An arthroscopic procedure can be used to remove or repair damaged tissue or as a diagnostic procedure in order to inspect the extent of any damage or confirm a diagnosis.

Aspiration: The withdrawal of fluid from a body cavity by means of a suction or siphonage apparatus, such as a syringe.

Atrophy: To shrivel or shrink from disuse, as in muscular atrophy.

Avascular Necrosis: Death of a part due to lack of circulation.

Avulsion: The tearing away, forcibly, of a part or structure.

Baker's Cyst: Localized swelling of a bursa sac in the posterior knee as a result of fluid that has escaped from the knee capsule. A Baker's cyst indicates that there is a trauma inside the knee joint that leads to excessive fluid production.

Bennett's Fracture: A fracture and dislocation of the base of the first metacarpal, the thumb.

Bone Scan: An imaging procedure in which a radioactive-labelled substance is injected into the body to determine the status of a bony injury.

Bursa: A fluid-filled sac that is located in areas where friction is likely to occur; then minimizes the friction; for example between a tendon and bone.

Capsule: Enclosing structure surrounding a joint, containing ligaments which stabilize that joint.

Chondral Fracture: Fracture to the chondral (cartilaginous) surfaces of bone.

Chondromalacia: Roughening of the articular cartilage. Best known for the roughening of the underside of the patella, which can occur in any patellofemoral injury.

Coccyx: The "tail bone"; a group of four vertebrae that are fused together, located at the terminal end of the spine.

Computed Tomography (CT): Method of visualizing the body's soft tissues. Using x-rays with the beam passing repeatedly through the body part, the CT scans while a computer calculates tissue absorption at each point scanned.

Concentric Muscle Contraction: A shortening of the muscle as it develops tension and contracts to move a resistance.

Congenital: Existing before birth; to be born with.

Conjunctivitis: Inflammation of the membrane lining the eyelids and covering the eyeball.

Contractures: Abnormal, usually permanent contraction of a muscle due to atrophy of muscle fibers, extensive scar tissue over a joint, or other factors.

Costochondral: Cartilage that separates the bones within the rib cage.

Cryotherapy: A treatment with use of cold.

Cyst: Abnormal sac containing liquid or semi-solid matter.

Debridement: Removal of non-healthy tissues and foreign material from a wound or burn to prevent infection and permit healing.

Degenerative Joint Disease: Changes in the joint surfaces as a result of repetitive trauma.

Deltoid Ligament: Ligament that connects the tibia to bones of the medial aspect of the foot and is primarily responsible for stability of the ankle on the medial side.

Deltoid: Muscles at the top of the arm, below the shoulder, responsible for shoulder motions.

Disc, Intervertebral: A flat, rounded plate between each vertebrae of the spine. The disc consists of a thick fiber ring which surrounds a soft gel-like interior. It functions as a cushion and shock absorber for the spinal column.

Eccentric Muscle Contraction: An overall lengthening of the muscle as it develops tension and contracts to control motion performed by an outside force; of times referred to a "negative" contraction in weight training. Eccymosis-Bleeding into the surface tissue below the skin, resulting in a "black and blue" effect.

Edema: Accumulation of fluid in organs and tissues of the body; swelling.

Effusion: Accumulation of fluid, or the fluid itself, in various spaces in the body. Commonly, the knee has an effusion after an injury.

Electrical Galvanic Stimulation (EGS): An electrical therapeutic modality that sends a current to the body at select voltages and frequencies in order to stimulate pain receptors, disperse edema, or neutralize muscle spasms among other functional applications.

Electromyogram (EMG): Test to determine nerve function.

Epicondylitis: Inflammation in the elbow due to overuse.

Ethyl Chloride: "Cold spray" or "freeze", a chemical coolant sprayed onto an injury site to produce a local, mild anesthesia.

External Rotation: Lateral movement of a joint or extremity to the outside.

Fascia: Connective sheath of fibrous tissue and fat which unites the skin to the underlying tissue.

Fibula: Smaller of the two bones in the lower leg; runs from knee to the ankle along the outside of the lower leg.

Fracture: Breach in continuity of a bone. Types of fractures include simple, compound, comminuted, greenstick, incomplete, impacted, longitudinal, oblique, stress or transverse.

Gamekeeper's Thumb: Ulnar collateral ligament tear of the metacarpophalangeal joint (thumb).

Glenohumeral: The shoulder girdle; consists of the glenoid capsule, head of the humerus and labrum. The type of joint that allows 360-degree motion, a "ball and socket" joint.

Glenoid: Scapula cavity into which the head of the humerus fits to form the shoulder girdle.

Grade One Injury: A mild injury in which ligament, tendon, or other musculoskeletal tissue may have been stretched or contused, but not torn or otherwise disrupted.

Grade Two Injury: A moderate injury when musculoskeletal tissue has been partially, but not totally torn which causes appreciable limitation in function of the injured tissue.

Grade Three Injury: A severe injury in which tissue has been significantly, and in some cases totally, torn or otherwise disrupted causing a virtual total loss of function.

Heat Cramps: Painful muscle spasms of the arms or legs caused by excessive body heat and depletion of fluids and electrolytes.

Hematoma: Tumor-like mass produced by an accumulation of coagulated blood in a cavity.

Humerus: Bone of the upper arm that runs from the shoulder to the elbow.

Hyperextension: Extreme extension of a limb or body part.

Iliotibial Band: A thick, wide fascial layer that runs from the iliac crest to the knee joint and is occasionally inflamed as a result of excessive running.

Impingement Syndrome: Pinching together of the supraspinatus muscle and other soft tissue in the shoulder. The most common (Throwing) arm injury, which represents many pathologies and generally involves supraspinatus overuse.

Intermittent Compression Pump: Therapeutic modality using an air pump to send air into a sleeve worn over an injury, on an intermittent basis, to disperse edema and swelling at the injury.

Internal Rotation: Rotation of a joint or extremity medially, to the inside.

Interosseus Membrane: Uniting membrane between the tibia and fibula that forms a collagenous fibrous tissue. It has two functions: to serve as an origin for many of the muscles of the lower leg, and to transmit stress from the tibia to the fibula.

Isokinetic Exercise: Form of active resistive exercise in which the speed of limb movement is controlled by a pre-set limiting machine, such as Cybex or Biodex.

Isometric Contraction: Muscular contraction in which tension is developed but no mechanical work is done (no appreciable joint movement and the overall length of the muscle stays the same).

MEDICAL GLOSSARY

Isotonic Contraction: A concentric or eccentric muscular contraction that results in movement of a joint or body part, as in lifting a weight.

Labrum (Labrum Glenoidale): Glenoid cavity cartilage in the shoulder, a lip-like structure.

Lateral Collateral Ligament (LCL): Ligament of the knee along the lateral aspect that connects the femur to the fibula. It provides lateral stability to the joint.

Ligament: Fibrous tissue band that connects bone to cartilage and supports and strengthens joints.

Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI): Imaging procedure in which a radio frequency pulse causes certain electrical elements of the injured tissue to react to this pulse and through this process a computer display and permanent film establish a visual image. MRI does not require radiation and is very useful in the diagnosis of soft tissue, disc and meniscus injuries.

Malleolus: Rounded projection on either side of the ankle joint; the lateral malleolus is the fibula and the medial malleolus is the tibia.

Mallet Finger: Finger tip injury in which the extensor tendon is avulsed off the distal phalanx.

Maximal Aerobic Power (MAX VO2): Maximal volume of oxygen consumed per unit of time.

Medial Collateral Ligament (MCL): Ligament of knee along the medial aspect that connects the femur to the joint.

Meniscectomy: An intra-articular surgical procedure of the knee by which all or part of the damaged meniscus is removed.

Meniscus: Crescent shaped cartilage, usually pertaining to the knee joint; also known as "cartilage." There are two menisci in the knee, medial and lateral. These work to absorb weight within the knee and provide stability.

Metacarpals: Five long bones of the hand, running from the wrist to the fingers.

Metatarsals: Five long bones of the foot, running from the ankle to the toes.

Morton's Neuroma: Involves the nerves and is usually the result of a trauma to the foot, causing inflammation and sharp pain, usually between the third and fourth toes.

Morton's Toe: A hereditary condition in which the second toe is longer than the first toe. This can cause mechanical imbalances which produce pain with weight bearing.

Myositis: Inflammation of the muscle.

Myositis Ossificans Traumatica: A benign ossification, usually following severe trauma to a large muscle mass.

Neuritis: Inflammation of a nerve.

Olecranon Process: Bony projection of the ulna at the tip of the elbow.

One Repetition Maximum: The maximum amount of weight that can be lifted by the player in a particular exercise at one time. This is used as a strength testing technique.

Orthotic: Any device applied to or around the body in the care of physical impairment or disability, commonly used to control foot mechanics.

Osteochondritis Dessicans: A piece of bone and/or cartilage loosened from its attachment after trauma and a cause of a lesion.

Parasthesia: Sensation of numbness/tingling, indicating nerve irritation.

Peroneal Muscles: Group of muscles of the lateral lower leg that are responsible for everting the ankle. Tendons of these three muscles are vital to the stability of the ankle and foot.

Phalanx: Any bone of the fingers or toes; plural in phalanges.

Phlebitis: Inflammation of a vein.

Phonophoresis: The technique of driving whole molecules of medication with ultrasound.

Plantar Fascia: The tight band of fibrous tissue beneath the arch of the foot.

Plantar Fasciitis: Inflammation of the plantar fascia; associated with overuse or acute foot injury.

Plantarflexion: Ankle motion such that the toes are pointed toward the ground.

Plica: Fold of the tissue in the joint capsule and common result of knee injury.

Pneumothorax: A collection of air or gas in the pleural space causing the lungs to collapse.

Posterior Cruciate Ligament (PCL): A primary stabilizing ligament of the knee that provides significant stability and prevents displacement of the tibia backward within the knee joint. A complete tear of this ligament necessitating reconstruction could require up to 12 months of rehabilitation.

Progressive Resistance Exercise (PRE): An approach to exercise whereby the load or resistance to the muscle is applied by some mechanical means and is quantitatively and progressively increased over time.

Proprioceptive Neuromuscular Facilitation (PNF): A therapeutic exercise based on the principles of functional human anatomy and neurophysiology.

Radius: Forearm bone on the thumb side.

Referred Pain: Pain felt in an undamaged area of body away from the actual injury.

Rotator Cuff: Comprised of four muscles in the shoulder area that can be irritated by overuse. The muscles are the supraspinatus (most commonly injured), infraspinatus, teres minor and subscapularis.

Rotator Cuff Impingement Syndrome: A microtrauma or overuse injury caused by stress. The four stages are: 1)tendentious with temporary thickening of the bursa and rotator cuff, 2)fiber dissociation in the tendon with a permanent thickening of the bursa and scar formation, 3)A partial rotator cuff tear of less than 1 cm, and 4)a complete tear of 1 cm or more.

SC Joint: Sternoclavicular joint; articulation of the collarbone with the sternum.

Sacroiliac: Junction of the sacrum with the hip bone.

Sacrum: Group of five fused vertebrae located just below the lumbar vertebrae of the low back.

Scapula: Shoulder blade.

Sciatica: Irritation of the sciatic nerve resulting in pain or tingling down the inside of the leg.

Sciatic Nerve: Major nerve that carries impulses for muscular action and sensations between the low back and thigh and lower leg; it is the longest nerve in the body.

Shin Splint: A catch-all syndrome describing pain in the shin that is not a fracture or tumor and cannot be defined otherwise.

Soft Corn: A corn, softened by moisture, found beneath the toes rather than the toe's upper surface.

Spleen: Large, solid organ responsible for the normal production and destruction of blood cells.

Spondylitis: Inflammation of one or more vertebrae.

Spondylolisthesis: Forward displacement of one vertebrae over another below it due to a developmental defect in the vertebrae.

Spondylosis: Abnormal vertebral fixation or immobility.

Sprain: Injury resulting from the stretch or twist of the joint and causes various degrees of stretch or tear of a ligament or other soft tissue at the joint.

Strain: Injury resulting from a pull or torsion to the muscle or tendon that causes various degrees of stretch or tear to the muscle or tendon tissue.

Stress Fracture: A hair-line type of break in a bone caused by overuse.

Stress X-Ray: A continual x-ray taken when a portion of the body is stressed to its maximum in order to determine joint stability. This is a test utilized in some ankle injuries.

Subluxation: Partial dislocation of a joint. The term usually implies that the joint can return to its normal position without formal reduction.

Synovial Fluid: Lubricates joints and tendons produced in synovium or the inner lining of a joint.

Synovitis: Inflammation of the synovial lining of a joint.

Talus: The ankle bone that articulates with the tibia and fibula to form the ankle joint.

Target Heart Rate: A pre-determined pulse obtained during exercise when circulation in working at full efficient capacities.

Tarsals: Group of seven bones of the foot consisting of the calcaneus, talus, cuboid and three cuneiform bones.

Tendinitis: Tendon and/or tendon sheath inflammation, caused by chronic overuse or sudden injury.

Tendon: Tissue that connects muscle to bone.

Tenosynovitis: Swelling of a tendon sheath caused by calcium deposits, repeated strain or trauma.

Thoracic: Group of twelve vertebrae located in the thorax and articulates with the twelve ribs.

Thoracic Outlet Compression Syndrome: A neuro-vascular disorder of the upper extremity common in throwing.

Tibia: Larger of the two bones of the lower leg and is the weight-bearing bone of the shin.

Tomograph: An x-ray apparatus that demonstrates an organ or tissue at a particular depth.

Trachea: The windpipe.

Transcutaneous Electrical Nerve Stimulator (TENS): An electrical modality that sends a mild current through pads at the injury site which stimulates the brain to release the natural analgesic, endorphin.

Transverse Process: Small lateral projection off the right and left side of each vertebrae that functions as an attachment site for muscles and ligaments of the spine.

Trapezius: Flat, triangular muscle covering the posterior surface of the neck and shoulder.

Ulna: Forearm bone that runs from the tip of the elbow to the little finger side of the wrist.

Ulnar Nerve: Nerve in the elbow commonly irritated from excessive throwing.

Zygoma: The cheekbone.

TWINS' 2006 BROADCASTERS

HERB CARNEAL

Radio Analyst

The dean of American League radio broadcasters, Twins' Hall of Famer Herb Carneal celebrates his 45th year as 'Voice of the Twins' in 2006.

Herb was the recipient of the Ford C. Frick award in 1996. The award is baseball-broadcastings highest honor and presented annually to broadcasters who make major contributions to baseball and its fans.

Hired away from the Baltimore Orioles in 1961, where he was part of the play-by-play team for five years, Carneal has been behind the microphone for all but the first of the Twins' 45 seasons. He has become an institution not only in the state of Minnesota but throughout the vast reaches of the Upper Midwest to which his voice carries.

Before joining the Orioles in 1957, Carneal served as sports director of a Philadelphia station where he broadcast Athletics and Phillies games.

Carneal lives in Edina, MN, and has one daughter.

JOHN GORDON

Radio Analyst

The 2006 season is John Gordon's 20th as the Twins' radio counterpart to Herb Carneal. Before coming to the Twin Cities prior to the 1987 season, Gordon was part of the New York Yankees broadcast crew from 1982-86.

The Detroit native began his broadcasting career with the Spartanburg Phillies in 1965 after graduating from the Indiana University. After five years with Spartanburg, Gordon joined the Baltimore Orioles where he remained until 1973, when he accepted the broadcasting job at the University of Virginia to become the voice of Cavaliers football and basketball. From there he joined the Yankees' Class AAA affiliate Columbus Clippers from 1977-81, before moving to New York in 1982. For his work with the Spartanburg Phillies, Gordon was inducted into the South Atlantic League's Hall of Fame on June 19, 2001, joining Walter Alston, Murray Cook and Tommy Lasorda in that year's class.

John and his wife, Nancy, have two grown children and make their home in Bloomington, MN. They designate countless time and effort to the "Touch 'Em All" Golf Tournament with proceeds going to the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, the Minnesota Stroke Association and the Minnesota Twins Community Fund.

DAN GLADDEN

Radio Analyst

Former Twins' fan favorite Dan Gladden enters his seventh year in the Twins radio broadcast booth, his fourth serving as a full-time analyst.

Gladden played in the major leagues for 11 years and retired from professional baseball following the 1994 season. He finished his career batting .270 with 203 doubles, 40 triples, 74 home runs, 446 rbi and 221 stolen bases in 1,197 games.

He made his big league debut in 1983 with the San Francisco Giants, with whom he played for three seasons, and was named to both Topps' and Baseball Digest All-Rookie teams in 1984. He was acquired along with pitcher David Blakely by Minnesota in exchange for pitchers Jose Dominguez, Bryan Hickerson and Ray Velasquez on March 31, 1987 and spent five years with the Twins before signing as a free agent with Detroit in 1992. He spent his last year in professional baseball playing for the Yomiuri Giants of the Japanese Central League in 1994. From there, Gladden was a major league advance scout for the Colorado Rockies from 1986-98 and a minor league roving instructor for San Francisco in 1999.

Always known as a fiery competitor, Gladden was a key ingredient in the Twins' 1987 and '91 World Championships. His grand slam home run in Game 1 of the '87 Series vs. St. Louis, capped a seven-run 4th inning and he scored the game-winning run in the 10th inning in Game 7 of the '91 Series vs. Atlanta.

Dan, wife Janice and daughters Ashley and Whitney, make their home in Eden Prairie, MN.

TWINS' 2006 BROADCASTERS

BERT BLYLEVEN

Television, Color Analyst

This will be the Dutchmen's 11th full season as color commentator for the Twins. Blyleven, who pitched in the major leagues for 23 years, including 11 seasons with the Twins, retired following the 1992 season.

The native of Zeist, Holland broke in with the Twins in 1970 at the age of 19. He retired at the age of 42 and is only the second major league pitcher of all-time to win a major league game before his 20th birthday and after his 40th birthday. Blyleven also pitched at the major league level with Texas, Pittsburgh, Cleveland and California. As a Twins starter, Bert had 345 career starts and a combined record of 149-138, 3.28 ERA and still holds the club record for strikeouts (2,035), shutouts (29) and complete games (141). He posted double figure wins in 17 different seasons. As a member of the Twins, he became a 20-winner in 1973 (20-17, 2.52) while leading the American League with 40 starts and 25 complete games, 9 shutouts and 325 innings, still a Twins record for a season. One of his most memorable moments occurred in 1977 when as a member of the Texas Rangers, Bert tossed a no-hitter defeating California 6-0 at Anaheim Stadium.

On baseball's all-time list, Blyleven ranks fifth in strikeouts (3,701), ninth in games started (685), ninth in shutouts (60), 13th in innings (4,970.1), and 24th in wins (287). He was voted A.L. Rookie Pitcher of the Year in 1970 and A.L. Comeback Player of the Year in 1989. Bert pitched in two All-Star Games, three Championship series and two World Series with the Twins and Pirates. Achievements that should put him in Baseball's Hall of Fame.

While nurturing a reputation as a practical joker on the field and in the booth, Bert has demonstrated a serious side off the field when it involves community service. He continues to work with a host of charities for a variety of worthwhile causes including the Ronald McDonald House.

Bert and his wife, Gayle, and their sons Royle and David make their home in Ft. Myers, FL.

DICK BREMER

Television, Play-By-Play

Dick Bremer begins his 23rd season as a broadcaster for the Twins in 2006.

Bremer, who graduated from St. Cloud State in 1978, began with the Twins in 1983 broadcasting games for Spectrum Sports. He remained there until 1985 and re-joined the team in 1987, working a two-year stint for TwinsVision. He worked with WCCO-TV and Midwest Sports Channel from 1989-2001.

The Staples (MN) High School grad has also been the voice of University of Minnesota basketball, football and hockey and has called games for University of Iowa basketball and the Minnesota North Stars in his 27-year career.

Dick and his wife, Heidi, along with their son, Erik and daughter Hannah, make their home in St. Michael, MN.

TWINS' SPRING TRAINING MEDIA POLICIES

SEASON CREDENTIALS

(Including parking): Issued only to daily newspaper reporters who will be covering the club, home and road, and to area radio and TV sports reporters and camera crews who will be covering on a regular basis. All other media entities will be credentialed on a per-game basis (including parking) and a letter from the person's editor must be mailed or faxed (239-768-4251) to Mike Herman. Transferral of working press credential will result in the termination of coverage privileges for the individuals involved. A photo ID and signature are required for credential pick-up at the VIP Window.

FIELD ACCESS

Allowed during batting practice and other workouts during the early training period, but once the game schedule begins the field must be cleared at the end of visitors' batting practice. All reporters must confine themselves to foul territory between 1st and 3rd base. Workouts begin daily at approximately 9:00 a.m.

DINING ROOM ACCESS

Available only to those media credentialed to cover that day's game, for a $5 charge. This room will open at 11:30 a.m. for day games (5:30 p.m. for night games) and will close at gametime. Working photographers will be permitted in the press dining room on the same basis as other reporters.

PRESSBOX ACCESS

Permitted only to members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America and to coverage reporters of area daily newspapers and radio and TV stations. Weekly newspapers can be accommodated only on a space-available basis. Phones and wireless internet are available.

CLUBHOUSE ACCESS

Limited to members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America and to coverage reporters of area daily newspapers and radio and TV stations. The clubhouse will be open prior to and following workouts during the pre-schedule workout period with certain exceptions. During the game schedule, the clubhouses will be closed at the end of batting practice until five minutes after games. Clubhouse access is limited to the player-locker area and the manager's office. The training room, exercise room and equipment rooms are off-limits to all media. No still cameras are allowed in the clubhouse.

INTERVIEWS

Players will accommodate when possible where on-field interviews are concerned. Any in-studio appearances or appearances on the player's own time must be set up through the Media Relations department.

RADIO & TV

No cameras will be allowed in the clubhouse prior to games and workouts or after workouts. Cameras will be allowed in the clubhouse after games. Feature material should be filmed on the field during batting practice. Post-game interviews may be conducted on the field or in the clubhouse for both TV and radio.

CAMERA POSITIONS

Several camera positions are available for shooting during the game, but no cameras will be allowed on the field itself. The center field position will be for game television cameras only, as will the low home position. High and low, 1st and 3rd base will be credentialed on a space-available basis. Any photographers shooting from the field photo pits will only be allowed to leave or change positions between innings.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

No photographers will be allowed on the field during the game or in the clubhouse at any time. There are at least four positions from which photographers may shoot during games. On the first day of full squad workouts, photographers will be allowed the freedom of the field during the exercise period, but must stay in foul territory during the actual workout times. On all other days, all media personnel must stay in foul territory and no farther down the lines than 1st and 3rd bases. No photographs are to be taken from the baseball press box.

PHOTO DAY

Will be on Monday, February 27, beginning at 8:00 a.m., sharp. All photographers seeking file head shots are asked to cooperate by doing this on Photo Day, when the players will be made available in an assembly line fashion to accommodate all accredited news services.

AUTOGRAPHS

Professional journalists do NOT ask for autographs. Any media members asking for autographs will have their credentials revoked.

TICKETS

May be purchased by coverage personnel out of a block held for this purpose. These are priced at $20 and $18 each and must be for personal use only and advance notice is recommended to increase chance of availability.

FOR ADDITIONAL INFORMATION: Call Mike Herman (239-768-4213) or write Lee County Sports Complex, 14100 Six Mile Cypress Parkway, Fort Myers, FL 33912.

SPRING TRAINING RECORDS

This is the 16th year that the Twins are training at Lee County Sports Complex after having trained at Orlando's Tinker Field from 1936-90.

The Twins' minor league training drills were switched from Melbourne to Terry Park in Fort Myers in 1990 and the entire organization was united at the Lee County Complex in 1991.

Complete spring training team statistics have been kept only since 1965. The various categorical highs since then have been as follows:

LEE COUNTY SPORTS COMPLEX

The Twins will spend their 16th spring training season at the Lee County Sports Complex in 2006. Spurred by the state-of-the-art facility, the Twins won the 1991 World Series after enjoying their most successful spring training camp in history as they posted a record-high 21 wins. In the fifteen years the Twins have drawn at total of 1,421,077 fans for 240 dates, an average of 5,921 per game (total does not include 17 replacement games in 1995 wich drew 49,240 fans).

Located south of the city of Fort Myers near Interstate Highway 75, the Lee County Complex is home to the Twins and their six minor league affiliates. It features five full and two half-fields, the centerpiece of which is a 7,500-seat stadium in which the major league Twins play their exhibition games and conduct some of their daily workouts. The main stadium was renamed Bill Hammond Stadium late in the 1994 spring season in honor of the County Commissioner who was instrumental in getting the complex built for the Twins.

The Sports Complex is the home to two of Minnesota's minor league affiliates in 2006, housing both the Miracle of the Class A Florida State League and the Rookie level Gulf Coast League Twins.

Complete home and visiting clubhouses are included in the stadium proper, and complete facilities for the minor league teams are contained in a building adjacent to their playing fields. A 6,000 square foot state-of-the-art fitness training room and conference center was built next to the minor league facility, which opened at the start of the 2005 spring training.

The major league club's administrative offices are located in the stadium, with the minor league department's offices in the building adjacent to their fields.

The complex also features two soccer fields, a softball complex and other athletic facilities for use by Lee County organizations, plus an eight-acre water-management lake for public fishing.

The Twins trained in Orlando, Florida, from 1936 (with the exception of the war years of 1943, '44 and '45, when they conditioned in College Park, Maryland) to 1990, and their minor league clubs moved to Terry Park in Fort Myers in 1990, after headquartering in Melbourne, Florida, from 1964-89.

The Lee County Sports Complex, a $14,000,000 undertaking, was completed in February, 1991. Lescher and Mahoney, an architectural and engineering firm based in Tampa, Florida, were the lead architects for the project, with design assistance from Ellerbe-Becket of Kansas City, Missouri. Case Contracting Company of Plant City, Florida, was the contractor.

On August 3, 2004, the Twins signed an extension with Lee County for use of the complex through 2020.
